NIH ANNOUNCEMENTS

AI ChatGPT

NOT-OD-23-149: The Use of Generative Artificial Intelligence Technologies is Prohibited for the NIH Peer Review Process [clarifies NOT-OD-22-044]

NOT-OD-22-044: Maintaining Security and Confidentiality in NIH Peer Review: Rules, Responsibilities and Possible Consequences

NIH has issued importance guidance that prohibits the use of ChatGPT or other similar programs in the peer review process; NIH prohibits NIH scientific peer reviewers from using natural language processors, large language models, or other generative Artificial Intelligence (AI) technologies for analyzing and formulating peer review critiques for grant applications and R&D contract proposals. NIH is revising its Security, Confidentiality, and Non-disclosure Agreements for Peer Reviewers to clarify this prohibition. Reviewers should be aware that uploading or sharing content or original concepts from an NIH grant application, contract proposal, or critique to online generative AI tools violates the NIH peer review confidentiality and integrity requirements. For those of you who serve on NIH study sections, please be sure to abide by this requirement and all confidentiality obligations that govern peer review [brought to our attention by SPA]

NOT-OD-22-044 (Release Date)

For Dryad, data deposit fees are waived for Columbia researchers, except for large datasets that exceed 50 GB. Costs for large datasets over 50 GB will vary depending on size of the data deposit. For more information, see Dryad’s terms. As reminder, it is best to follow NIH’s guidelines on selecting a repository, and take into consideration the following before selection: Does the NIH funding opportunity announcement (FOA), or NIH Institute, mandate a particular repository for data sharing? If no; Is there an NIH-supported data repository that is appropriate for your data type? If no; Consider a generalist repository, such as Dryad; or Columbia’s data storage options, some of which can act as repositories for data sharing.; For questions, please reach out to data-management@columbia.edu; [brought to our attention by] Stephanie F. Contact: For questions about DMPTool, or the contents of the DMS Plans, please contact data-management@columbia.edu. You can also contact your SPA Project Officer for questions concerning the preparation of your NIH applications.

Additional Information: SPA provided two important clarifications for PIs regarding: (1) the use of DMPTool and NIH’s formatting requirements, and (2) when the Resource Sharing Plans are required in addition to the Data Management and Sharing Plan;

DMPTool - When using DMPTool to create the DMS Plan, the Plan must comply with all of NIH’s formatting requirements. Otherwise, the application is at risk of getting withdrawn. This includes font size, margins, and no URLs or hyperlinks are allowed. You should download the Plan created in DMPTool as a Word document to make sure you can meet all formatting requirements. See this one-page DMPTool Formatting Guide for NIH Proposals.

Resource Sharing Plan(s) - When the new DMS Policy took effect on January 25, 2023, it eliminated the requirement to include a Data Sharing Plan (under the 2003 policy), or a Genomic Data Sharing Plan, in the Resource Sharing Plan(s) section of the application. Instead, only one DMS Plan is

DoD/CDMRP - COVID-19 Impact on Research Awards

[No Link Provided]

CDMRP continues to be concerned about the impacts of COVID-19 on Service Members and the public. We are aware of the challenges it poses and are tracking some of the impacts to current awardees and ongoing research. While not every program will have financial resources available to assist, awareness of any significant unresolved issues affecting current research awards is important.

The intent of this notice is to remind recipients of the requirements in 32 CFR Part 1134, Subpart E Other Reporting. This provision specifies the requirement for recipients to disclose significant developments as soon as they become known. These include problems, delays, or adverse conditions that will materially impair your ability to meet the objectives of your awards; Disclosures of significant developments may be made on your next interim performance report or at any point between scheduled performance reporting dates by contacting the Science Officer or Grant Specialist assigned to

Additional Information: Please see the following message from NSF below regarding Project Report enhancements in Research.gov to enable datasets and research materials to be entered as distinct product types that are managed and reviewed separately. See below; [brought to our attention by] Stephanie Scott ; NSF Project Report Enhancements forDatasets and Research Materials; NSF System Update; Dear Colleague, Effective July 24, 2023, the National Science Foundation (NSF) made enhancements to the Project Reporting System in Research.gov to enable datasets and research materials to be entered as distinct product types that are managed and reviewed separately. This change improves project report data quality by listing each product type resulting from NSF funded research as a separate entry rather than a combined listing of multiple product types. Other changes include improved system messaging and an updated user interface to provide a more seamless look and feel for NSF award recipients. There are no changes to NSF's Public Access policy or project reporting requirements.; An updated How to Add Datasets to the NSF-PAR and NSF In-progress Project Reports guide and updated How to Remove Datasets from the NSF-PAR and In-progress Project Reports guide will be available on the Research.gov About Public Access page. Visit the NSF Public Access Initiative page for more information including the NSF Public Access Plan 2.0 - Ensuring Open, Immediate and Equitable Access to National Science Foundation Funded Research released earlier this year.; Questions? If you have IT system-related questions, please contact the NSF Help Desk at 1-800-381-1532 (7:00 AM - 9:00 PM ET; Monday - Friday except federal holidays) or via rgov@nsf.gov. Policy-related questions should be directed to policy@nsf.gov.; Regards, Division of Information Systems; National Science Foundation

Please click the “Columbia University Login” button to view instructions and begin your application.; What: The PIPP Phase II Centers Program expands upon the Phase I Development Grant Program and is the NSF’s flagship program to establish a network of Centers or large-scale awards/investments that will support interdisciplinary team-based approaches to accelerate research and development activities in emerging infectious diseases and pandemics. The overall goal of the PIPP Phase II Centers program is to support research and development activities needed to transform society’s ability to forecast the likelihood of pandemic-scale events, detect outbreaks early, and respond efficiently.; Each PIPP Phase II Center is envisioned as a catalytic force that: Builds a deeper understanding of foundational research issues that are critical in predictive intelligence for pandemic prevention.; Innovates in a multitude of science and engineering fields within each theme, including, but not limited to: environmental, biological, social, behavioral, economic, mathematical, computer and information science and engineering science.; Provides use-inspired insights to critical problems relating to predictive intelligence for pandemic prevention that accelerate translation of research results to practice with societal impact.; Successful Centers are motivated by clear and compelling foundational and interdisciplinary research questions and pursue activities that are focused in one of themes below. While each theme has a clear focus in some disciplines, research and development activities must draw together data, theory, tools, infrastructure and ideas that cross all relevant disciplinary boundaries (e.g., environmental, biological, chemical, physical, materials, social, behavioral, economic, mathematical, computer and information science and/or engineering science), and reflect this in balanced expertise on the team of collaborators and participants.; Theme 1: Pre-emergence - Predicting and detecting rare events in complex, dynamical systems; Theme 2: Data, AI/ML and Design - Computing, manufacturing and technology innovation for pandemics; Theme 3: The Host as the Universe - Identifying host-pathogen tipping points that dictate control or spread of an infection; Theme 4: Human Systems - The role of human behavior, activities and environments in disease emergence, transmission, and response or mitigation; The Directorates for Biological Sciences (BIO), Computer Information Science and Engineering (CISE), Engineering (ENG), Social, Behavioral and Economic Sciences (SBE), and Mathematics and Physical Sciences (MPS) are jointly collaborating to support the PIPP Phase II activities. Involvement of and collaboration with other research communities with significant effort in related spaces, including use-inspired research is highly encouraged.; Program Solicitation: https://www.nsf.gov/pubs/2023/nsf23608/nsf23608.htm; Who: Applicant teams must possess the skills, knowledge, resources, and institutional support necessary to manage and sustain the proposed center.; Institutional Support: Applications must include a letter from the lead PI’s dean confirming institutional support through the lifespan of the center.; When: Internal Deadline - 9:00 a.m. on Thursday, August 2, 2023; Sponsor Deadline – August 25, 2023; How: To apply, please visit the internal application and instructions on our InfoReady Review site at: https://columbia.infoready4.com/#competitionDetail/1911795; Questions: Greg Culler and Casey Rollins at limitedsubmissions@columbia.edu.; Limited Submissions; C O L U M B I A  | R E S E A R C H | Office of Research Initiatives & Development; Website: https://research.columbia.edu/limiteds

[NTW] [NIH LOAN REPAYMENT PROGRAM (LRP)]
Sponsored Projects Administration (SPA) hosted a webinar on 07/26/2023 featuring Dr. Stephanie Rolin, a researcher at Columbia, who spoke about the National Institutes of Health Loan Repayment Program (LRP). Dr. Rolin is a current NIH LRP awardee and an LRP Ambassador who provided tips in preparing LRP applications; Dr. Rolin will also be hosting a 6-week online workshop from August - October to provide direction and strategy to prospective applicants.
This workshop is ideal for first-time applicants (though all are welcome to participate) and will provide practical resources to ensure applicants are staying on target to meet the submission deadline. LRP applications will be accepted by NIH from September 1 until November 16, 2023. Please email Dr. Rolin at stephanie.rolin@nyspi.columbia.edu if you’d like more information about this workshop. There will also be an opportunity to sign up for the workshop following the webinar.

Additional Information: The NIH Loan Repayment Programs (LRPs) are a set of programs established by Congress and designed to recruit and retain highly qualified health professionals into biomedical or biobehavioral research careers. Additional detailed information about each LRP is provided at https://www.lrp.nih.gov/eligibility-programs and www.lrp.nih.gov/apply. The NIH invites qualified health professionals who contractually agree to engage in NIH mission-relevant research for an average of at least 20 hours each week for at least two years, initially, to apply for an award in the Extramural LRP. The Extramural LRP repays up to $50,000 annually of a researcher’s qualified educational debt in return for a commitment to engage in NIH mission-relevant research at a domestic, nonprofit, or government entity. Research funding from NIH is not required to participate in the Extramural LRP. LRP awards are based on an applicant’s potential to build and sustain a research career; Extramural LRP applications will be accepted from September 1 until November 16, 2023. All LRP applications must be submitted electronically.
using the Application Submission System & Interface for Submission Tracking (ASSIST): https://public.era.nih.gov/assist/; [also brought to our attention by] Stephanie F. Scott, MS, CRA; Director of Policy and Research Development; Columbia | Research; Sponsored Projects Administration; Email: stephanie.scott@columbia.edu. Website: https://spa.columbia.edu/. Do you have student debt? If so, you can get up to $100,000 repaid towards your student loans with a two-year award from the NIH Loan Repayment Programs (LRPs) in exchange for a two-year commitment to conduct research. NIH just released the Extramural LRP six subcategories of funding announcements that aim to recruit and retain highly qualified biomedical and behavioral scientists. The funding announcements are: LRP for Clinical Researchers (LRP-CR) – NOT-OD-23-142; LRP for Pediatric Research (LRP-PR) – NOT-OD-23-143; LRP for Health Disparities Research (LRP-HDR) – NOT-OD-23-144; LRP for Research in Emerging Areas Critical to Human Health (LRP-REACH) – NOT-OD-23-145; Clinical Research LRP for Individuals from Disadvantaged Backgrounds (LRP-IDB) – NOT-OD-23-146; LRP for Contraception and Infertility Research (LRP-CIR) – NOT-OD-23-147; LRP applications will be accepted from September 1 until November 16, 2023. All LRP applications must be submitted electronically using the Application Submission System & Interface for Submission Tracking (ASSIST); Sponsored Projects Administration (SPA) hosted a webinar 07/26/2023 featuring Dr. Stephanie Rolin, a researcher at Columbia, with representatives from SPA. Dr. Rolin is a current NIH Loan Repayment Program (LRP) awardee and an LRP Ambassador who provided tips in preparing your application.; Dr. Rolin will also be hosting a 6-week online workshop from August - October to provide direction and strategy to prospective applicants. Additional Information: This session is tailored to trainees and early career scholars aspiring to publish ELSI-related work in scientific and medical-oriented journals; Discussants will explore the promise and challenges of such publishing, and presentations will include topics such as: Possible formats for ELSI manuscripts in scientific and medical journals; Addressing interdisciplinary issues, such as use of medical vs. sociopolitical language and concepts; Tips for best placement of articles focusing on quantitative, qualitative, and normative/policy ELSI research; Following presentations, a significant portion of the webinar will be dedicated to both moderated and live audience Q&A.

[NTW] [CANCER PILOT]
HICCC-FAS Joint Seed Cancer Research Pilot Grants; Deadline 08/28/2023
Sponsor: Herbert Irving Comprehensive Cancer Center (HICCC); The Departments of Biological Sciences, Chemistry and Physics Columbia University; HICCC-FAS
Deadline(s): 08/28/2023
Contact: For any questions about the application process, scientific content, and eligibility, please contact: Emer Smyth (es3551@cumc.columbia.edu) or Sadiqa Quadri (sk1@columbia.edu).
Link(s): https://columbia.infoready4.com/#competitionDetail/1873350
Additional Information: Announcing 2023 Herbert Irving Comprehensive Cancer Center- Faculty of Arts and Sciences Joint Pilot Award; Dear Colleagues, The leadership of the Herbert Irving Comprehensive Cancer Center (HICCC), in collaboration with the Departments of Biological Sciences, Chemistry, and Physics, is seeking applications for the 2023 HICCC-FAS joint seed Cancer Research Pilot grant to initiate and support interdisciplinary and collaborative research. The HICCC-FAS joint pilot grant should include collaboration between faculty from both organizations. Preference will be given to applicants who have not worked together previously. Please share the attached RFP with any faculty that might be eligible and interested.; Application Submission Deadline: Monday, August 28, 2023, 11:59 pm EST.; Applications must be submitted using the Columbia InfoReady web portal; https://columbia.infoready4.com/#competitionDetail/1873350 ; With best wishes, [brought to our attention by] Anil Rustgi, MD; Irving Professor of Medicine; Director, Herbert Irving Comprehensive Cancer Center; Columbia University Irving Medical Center; On behalf of the Executive Leadership of the HICCC-FAS joint seed Cancer Research Pilot Award; We are pleased to announce the launch of 2023 Herbert Irving Comprehensive Cancer Center- Faculty of Arts and Sciences Joint Pilot Award. Click on the link below to view more information. Thank you; Internal Submission Deadline: Monday, August 28, 2023; Funding Organization’s Deadline: Monday, August 28, 2023; Cycle: 2023; Discipline/Subject Area: cancer research; Funding Available: 100,000; Description: Herbert Irving Comprehensive Cancer Center (HICCC); The Departments of Biological Sciences, Chemistry and Physics Columbia University; HICCC-FAS Joint Seed Cancer Research Pilot Grants; Request for Proposals; July 2023; Columbia’s Faculty of Arts and Sciences (FAS), specifically its Departments of Biological Sciences, Chemistry, and Physics, and the Herbert Irving Comprehensive Cancer Center (HICCC) are excited to announce a fourth cycle of their joint seed funding opportunity. Up to two (2) HICCC-FAS joint seed Cancer Research Pilot grants in cancer research will be supported this year to initiate and support interdisciplinary and collaborative research. The HICCC-FAS joint Cancer Research pilot grant should include collaboration between faculty from both organizations. Preference will be given to applicants who have not worked together previously. A firm expectation is that the pilot grants will catalyze multi-PI grant proposal submissions to the NCI/NIH (multi-PI R01, U, or P mechanisms); Areas of potential development include (but are not restricted to) interdisciplinary research that provides new insight into fundamental mechanisms relevant to cancer (e.g., chemical reactions relevant to metabolism or signaling) as well as the development of new experimental or computational technologies for probing these mechanisms (e.g., high-throughput assays of molecular interactions or imaging). Faculty are encouraged to explore collaborating within these thematic areas or on other topics at the intersection of biological and cancer research. If you would like assistance in identifying potential collaborators at the HICCC, please contact Dr. Emer Smyth at es3551@cumc.columbia.edu. Participation by individuals from underrepresented groups is strongly encouraged; Proposals are requested for one-year pilot studies. We expect to fund two projects for one year at $100,000 for each project. We encourage that most funds be utilized for project-specific experiments; a smaller portion of the funds may be used towards postdoctorate research, graduate student, and technician salary. Funding may not be used towards PI salary, administrative support staff, or graduate student tuition payment. Indirect costs are not allowed; The Proposal Submission Deadline is August 28 (no extensions will be allowed). Funds will be available for projects starting October 1st, 2023; Eligibility: Applicants must hold an MD, Ph.D., MD-PhD, or D.O.; Principal Investigator must be a full-time faculty member at the Assistant Professor level or higher at the time of application submission; Postdoctoral trainees, Associate Research Scientists, and Lecturers are not eligible to apply as Principal Investigators; Individuals may only submit one application as PI or co-PI; Funding Priority will be on the following projects: Projects that interact with the HICCC's Community Outreach and Engagement (COE) office to address the cancer burden in our Catchment Area through research related to reducing cancer health disparities, including *cancers at a high incidence or mortality in the Catchment Area. Prospective applicants are encouraged to contact Kimberly Burke (krb2160@cumc.columbia.edu), COE’s Assistant Director of Operations, and/or TBM’s COE liaisons (Drs. Flora Momen-Heravi and Sam Yoon), for more information on COE and the HICCC Catchment Area; *Diseases relevant to the catchment area include but are not limited to: Head and Neck, GU (prostate); GI (colorectal, pancreatic, upper GI, hepatobiliary-pancreatic); Head and Neck, lung; breast; brain and other CNS cancers; hematologic malignancies (lymphoma, leukemia); GYN (uterine, cervical, ovarian); and pediatric.; Preference will be given to applicants who have not worked together previously.; Likelihood that the pilot will lead to a new external grant submission and a co-author publication(s); Proposal Format: To apply, submit the following materials in the InfoReady portal: https://columbia.infoReady4.com/#competitionDetail/1873350; Project Proposal - single space (Arial 11 font) with the following sections: Lay summary (250 words, in language understandable to a lay audience); Project summary (250 words); Specific Aims (maximum of 1 page. Excluding references); Research plan (maximum of 2 pages, excluding references); including background/significance, innovation, approach, and relevance to the HICCC Catchment Area; Summary and future directions (including the plan to submit external grant applications) (1/2 page); References/literature cited; Itemized budget with justification that denotes the distribution of funds between the co-investigators; NIH formatted biosketch and Other Support (using the new NIH format) for each investigator/key personnel; Review Process: HICCC and FAS Senior Leadership will jointly select the awards through an internal review committee. We will select reviewers who have not applied for seed grants during this application round. Projects regarding scientific merit, innovation, investigators, approach, and collaborative integration will be evaluated.; Anonymized critiques will be shared with applicants. We look forward to receiving your proposals. Awardees are expected to serve as pilot award reviewers in the future. Individuals who have received a HICCC-FAS award in the last 3 years are considered ineligible.

Additional Information: The announcement below was sent to NSF researchers earlier today. I am forwarding to grants administrators. You will want to read this carefully as it pertains to researchers planning to submit NSF proposals on or after 7/31/2023. See below; [brought to our attention by Stephanie Scott]; EVP for Research; New NSF Training Requirement for Faculty and Senior Researchers; Dear NSF Researchers, If you plan to submit an NSF proposal on or after July 31, 2023, please read this message carefully; Congress has mandated a new training requirement in responsible and ethical conduct of research (RECR) for all NSF-funded faculty and senior personnel. This message contains important information about how to meet this new requirement; What is the new RECR training requirement?; In 2022, Congress mandated that faculty and senior personnel supported by NSF must complete RECR training. This training requirement has applied to NSF-funded undergraduates, graduate students and postdocs since 2010. Congress has mandated that RECR training for faculty and senior personnel must include training on mentoring and mentorship. Other topics include: safeguarding intellectual property, authorship and publication, research misconduct, and peer review. RECR training need be completed only once; there is no refresher training requirement.; How am I affected? If you are listed as faculty or senior personnel on an NSF proposal due on or after July 31, 2023 and the proposal is awarded, then you must complete RECR training before the award can be set up. If you do the training now, you will avoid delays when your next NSF project is awarded. This requirement does not apply to proposals for conferences, symposia, workshops, or travel. Finally, this requirement does not apply retroactively to projects submitted and awarded before July 31.; \textbf{How do faculty and researchers fulfill the RECR training requirement?;} You may complete the RECR training requirement through the Rascal Training Center, Course No. TC7000. There are nine relatively brief modules. It is not necessary to complete all modules in one session, but the modules must be completed in sequence. There are quizzes at the end of most modules. Including the time needed to read through the material, we estimate that completing all the modules will take around 2.5-3 hours. If you are very familiar with the material, you have the ability to skim and scroll to the quizzes. If you need help navigating to the training, please review the step-by-step instructions posted on the Research Compliance and Training website.; \textbf{How will this requirement be communicated to faculty and researchers?;} The Office of Research Compliance and Training (RCT) will assign the training in Rascal to any identified faculty, senior personnel, postdoc or student supported by NSF. This means that the training will appear automatically in the My Training To-Do List, in the Rascal Training Center. In addition, over the next several months, RCT will send regular reminders to NSF faculty and senior personnel who have not completed RECR training. At award setup, Sponsored Projects Administration will confirm that all faculty and senior personnel named in the proposal have completed RECR training and will inform those who have not completed RECR training that they must do so. The award will not be set up until all faculty and senior personnel named in the proposal have completed the training.; \textbf{Will you hold award set-up until students and postdocs complete RECR training?;} No. Award set-up will only be held until faculty and other senior personnel named in the proposal complete the training. The Office of Research Compliance and Training has a separate process for students and postdocs.; \textbf{Responsible and ethical conduct of research is important;} We know that researchers must complete many administrative and compliance responsibilities, and mandatory RECR training adds to this burden. However, the topics covered in these trainings are essential to the integrity of the research process. Researchers can take advantage of the opportunity to review the same materials as their students and postdocs. This shared understanding of the fundamental principles and norms that underlie our work will help promote a cohesive research environment.; Questions regarding the NSF RECR requirement may be directed to the Office of Research Compliance and Training, 212-854-4261, or RCTraining@columbia.edu. Information is also available on Columbia’s Responsible and Ethical Conduct of Research NSF RECR Training Requirement | Columbia | Research. ; Sincerely, [brought to our attention by] Jeannette M. \textbf{Additional Information:} The NIH is committed to maintaining integrity and fairness in the peer review process. Towards this effort, the NIH’s Center for Scientific Review (CSR) has developed two reviewer training modules.; [1] The “Review Integrity”
module raises awareness of actions that breach review integrity and provides tools to prevent and report them. [2] The “Bias Awareness and Mitigation” module raises awareness of potential biases in the peer review process and provides strategies to mitigate them. Both trainings have been successfully implemented by CSR for multiple review cycles, with many thousands of reviewers having taken the trainings prior to serving on review panels. Additional Information: Dear Colleagues, NIH has issued important guidance that prohibits the use of ChatGPT or other similar programs in the peer review process; NIH prohibits NIH scientific peer reviewers from using natural language processors, large language models, or other generative Artificial Intelligence (AI) technologies for analyzing and formulating peer review critiques for grant applications and R&D contract proposals. NIH is revising its Security, Confidentiality, and Non-disclosure Agreements for Peer Reviewers to clarify this prohibition. Reviewers should be aware that uploading or sharing content or original concepts from an NIH grant application, contract proposal, or critique to online generative AI tools violates the NIH peer review confidentiality and integrity requirements. For those of you who serve on NIH study sections, please be sure to abide by this requirement and all confidentiality obligations that govern peer review. Please review NIH’s Notice No. NOT-OD-23-149, The Use of Generative Artificial Intelligence Technologies is Prohibited for the NIH Peer Review Process for more information. Thank you; [brought to our attention by SPA/] Stephanie F. Scott, MS, CRA; Director of Policy and Research Development; Columbia | Research; Sponsored Projects Administration; Columbia University & Columbia University Irving Medical Center; Email: stephanie.scott@columbia.edu; Website: https://spa.columbia.edu/. The purpose of this Notice is to clarify NOT-OD-22-044 on Maintaining Security and Confidentiality in NIH Peer Review: Rules, Responsibilities and Possible Consequences and inform the extramural community that the NIH prohibits NIH scientific peer reviewers from using natural language processors, large language models, or other generative Artificial Intelligence (AI) technologies for analyzing and formulating peer review critiques for grant applications and R&D contract proposals. NIH is revising its Security, Confidentiality, and Non-disclosure Agreements for Peer Reviewers to clarify this prohibition. Additional Information: Announcing New RFP: Bollinger Convenings at the Forum; Dear Colleagues, We are pleased to announce a request for proposals for the Bollinger Convenings at the Forum, a new endowed event series created and funded by the university’s 17 schools and the Office of the Provost. Designed to honor Lee C. Bollinger’s transnational tenure as President, events will showcase initiatives that leverage scholarly knowledge to benefit society, which President Bollinger identified as Columbia University’s Fourth Purpose.; Full-time faculty and officers of research are invited to submit proposals for events, starting in spring 2024, to take place at the Forum, a unique gathering space and a gateway for the community to our Manhattanville Campus. Proposals must be led by a set of principal investigators from multiple schools.; Selected proposals will be supported with a 1:1 cost match for the event, with awards ranging from $10,000 to $25,000. You can find further details, including the proposal guidelines and submission portal, online. Questions can be directed to fourthpurpose@columbia.edu.; Applications will be accepted through October 13, 2023.; We look forward to your proposals, and to the events that will showcase Columbia’s breadth of initiatives that translate scholarship into action for the common good.; Sincerely, Mary C. Boyce; Provost; Professor of Mechanical Engineering; Sam Sia; Vice Provost for the Fourth Purpose and Strategic Impact; Professor of Biomedical Engineering.

[NTW] [NIH DATA MANAGEMENT AND SHARING (DMS) POLICY]
We are writing to let the research community know there are two new templates that can be used to create NIH Data management and Sharing (DMS) Plans that are in DMPTool. NIH plans to implement one of these templates across all NIH Institutes, Centers and Offices (ICOs) sometime next year;
The two NIH DMS Plan templates: NIH will accept either of the two pilot templates, or the standard NIH DMS Plan format in grant applications requiring a DMS Plan. The two pilot templates are available in DMPTool, or the FDP/NIH DMS Pilot webpage. At the end of the FDP/NIH DMS Pilot, the NIH will select a template(s) and this pilot aims to inform the final template(s).

Additional Information: We are writing to let the research community know there are two new templates that can be used to create NIH Data management and Sharing (DMS) Plans that are in DMPTool. NIH plans to implement one of these templates across all NIH Institutes, Centers and Offices (ICOs) sometime next year.; Background: Columbia University is a member of the Federal Demonstration Partnership (FDP), an association of universities, research institutions, and federal agencies collaborating together to examine ways to reduce administrative burden associated with the management of federally funded sponsored projects.; The FDP, in collaboration with NIH, is currently conducting a pilot (aka, the FDP/NIH DMS Pilot) to test the two new NIH DMS Plan templates and seek researcher input.; The goal of the FDP/NIH DMS Pilot is to: Save time for researchers to complete their DMS Plans by providing templates with clear fields and instructions; Reduce time to finalize the DMS Plan during Just-in-Time (JIT), which in turn, reduces time to the issuance of a Notice of Award; and Promote standardization of the information collected in DMS Plans that meet the needs of the different NIH ICOs, therefore, preventing significant variations in ICO-specific requirements.; At the end of the FDP/NIH DMS Pilot, the NIH will select a template(s) and this pilot aims to inform the final template(s). Researchers have the opportunity now to inform what the future template will be.; The two NIH DMS Plan templates: NIH will accept either of the two pilot templates, or the standard NIH DMS Plan format in grant applications requiring a DMS Plan. The two pilot templates are available in DMPTool, or the FDP/NIH DMS Pilot webpage and are available for anyone to use.; If downloading the templates from the FDP/NIH DMS Pilot webpage, the options are: FDP Pilot Template Alpha - a prescriptive, fillable PDF template designed to limit the need for free text entry.; Note - when downloading the Alpha template from the FDP/NIH DMS Pilot webpage, the template will not open in a web browser; it must be downloaded and opened in a licensed version of Adobe (cannot use the free version of Adobe); FDP Pilot Template Bravo - a Word doc which aims to provide detailed prompts as well as more options to include free text responses as necessary.; If using DMPTool, both of these templates, as well as the general NIH DMS Plan format (labeled as the NIH-GEN DSMP (2003)) are available for use. No need to obtain the licensed version of Adobe.; Providing feedback to NIH: If using either the Alpha or Bravo templates, please provide feedback to NIH. Simply complete this short survey.; Questions: If you have any questions, please feel free to reach us at data-management@columbia.edu. For more Columbia-specific resources and FAQs on the NIH DMS Policy, see Columbia's NIH Policy on Data Management and Sharing (2023) webpage. ; [brought to our attention by] Stephanie F. Additional Information: New Funding Opportunity: Research how state preemption policies impact racial justice and health equity; RWJF; Funding Opportunity; Policies for Action; Up to $1.5 million is available for a maximum of six grants that will be funded over 24 months to investigate how preemption policies at the state level affect racial justice and health equity. While we all have dreams for ourselves and our families, we don’t all have the same opportunities to make those dreams come true. Often, those opportunities depend on the resources available in our communities and are shaped by local policies that grow out of local strengths and address local needs. Sometimes, local policies and state policies conflict. When that happens, state policies usually take precedence or preempt local initiatives. Preemption is when a higher level of government, such as a state legislature, restricts the authority of a lower level of government, such as a city council. This impact on local laws isn’t necessarily good or bad. But understanding how preemption can either advance or hinder racial equity is crucial to shaping equitable policies; Help build the evidence about preemption’s effects and shape a society where everyone can have the best possible future.

Redesigning the xTrain module:

This is a reminder that NIH will be releasing the new redesigned xTrain module 03/30/2023. With this new release, trainees will be required to sign Reappointments and Amendments, just as they do for Initial Appointments. In cases where this is not possible due to a trainee’s unavailability, the program director/principal investigator (PD/PI) will add a comment to explain why the trainee could not sign. For more detailed information, see NIH’s notice below, along with their videos, screen shots and user guide; eRA Reminder: Redesigned xTrain Module To Be Released Tomorrow, March 30; The new xTrain module is scheduled to be released tomorrow, Thursday, March 30 in eRA Commons. eRA collaborated with a group of xTrain users to revamp xTrain with new screens and improved process flows. The release also includes a process change for deletion of forms, as well as clarifications on signatures for trainees and organizational responsibilities for users;

Look for the new xTrain screens to appear in eRA Commons tomorrow. There will be no downtime or impact on users. Below, see resources for more information and a related message that details new features and screens.; Resources: NIH Guide Notice NOT-OD-23-094; xTrain Overview video tutorial; xTrain — Appointments video tutorial; xTrain online help (available following tomorrow’s release); (Original message below sent Thursday, March 16 at 11:05 a.m.) As mentioned a couple of weeks ago, NIH is going to launch a newly redesigned xTrain on March 30th. xTrain is used to manage appointments, reappointments and terminations for institutional training grants (Ts), individual fellowships (Fs), institutional career development awards (K12), and some research education awards (such as the R25). NIH released additional information below (which can also be read here), containing screen shots. In addition, they created a high-level, six-minute video walking through the new xTrain. Their detailed, online user guide won’t be available until after the release. We will keep you posted on xTrain as more information becomes available.; eRA Enhancements: Redesigned xTrain Module in eRA Commons Coming on March 30; eRA Collaborating for a Transformative Tomorrow; eRA Enhancements: Redesigned xTrain Module in eRA Commons Coming on March 30; A newly redesigned xTrain module in eRA Commons is scheduled to be rolled out on Thursday, March 30, following a collaboration with an external user group. The new xTrain, with revamped screens and streamlined processes, is designed to be more user-friendly and task oriented. In addition, xTrain will adopt the new visual appearance being adopted by other eRA modules, as part of a required technology upgrade.; As a reminder, xTrain is used by program directors/principal investigators (PD/PIs), university administrators, and trainees to electronically prepare and submit PHS 2271 Statement of Appointment Forms and PHS 416-7 Termination Notices associated with institutional research training grants, institutional career development awards, individual fellowships, and research education awards.; The release will accommodate a clarification on signatures for trainees (see section towards the end of the message below). Read details about this change and a clarification of organizational responsibilities for external users in NIH Guide Notice NOT-OD-23-094.; Although the entire module will be updated, only a sampling of new screens is shown below. For complete screenshots and steps, see the xTrain online help following the release.; Awarded Grants Screen; The Awarded Grants screen is the first screen PIs, sponsors, and their delegates see upon login. Note that business officials, signing officials, and trainees see slightly different screens tailored for their task flows. The Awarded Grants screen lists grants awarded to the current user as well as grants for which the current user is a sponsor. Users can use the Quick Filters section, a set of toggles that narrow down the grants shown. Actions that were formerly under the Action column, such as the option to go to the training roster, appear under the three-dot ellipsis menu; see Figure 1; A set of new tools at the top of tables in xTrain lets you type text to quickly filter results, print or download results, choose results shown per page, and navigate through pages of results; see Figure 1. For information on using new table tools, see Standard Tools for Tables.
Figure 1: Awarded Grants screen showing Quick Filters to narrow down grants shown, the three-dot ellipsis menu displaying actions for a grant, and new table tools; Trainee Roster Screen – Overview Section; The top of the Trainee Roster screen shows grant information and trainee roster information by grant year and includes graphs of awarded and accepted months for pre-doc, post-doc, and short term. For a particular grant year, users can click an Appointments – Start New button to search for a trainee and start a new appointment form. All actions available for a grant reside under the three-dot ellipsis menu next to the grant number.; The See Slots link for each year will show slots awarded and accepted for each of the three categories of appointments (pre-doc, post-doc, and short term); see Figure 2. More complete slot data is available from the Appointment Form screen; see Figure 5.
Figure 2: Top part of the Trainee Roster screen, which graphically displays current trainee months, as well as a three-dot ellipsis for performing actions, number of Appointments and Terminations, a Start New appointment link, and a See Slots link for each grant; Trainee Roster Screen – List of Trainees Section; At the bottom of the Trainee Roster screen, which users can quickly access using the Jump to Roster Table button, users see the list of trainees. Users can click the three-dot ellipsis menu for a trainee to see available actions such as view the appointment form, view routing history, initiate or view a termination notice (not shown), amend an appointment, or create a service desk ticket that is automatically populated with the relevant information. Underlined and linked trainee names represent forms that are a work in progress by the trainee, but accessible to be recalled by the PI; see Figure 3.
Figure 3: Bottom of the Trainee Roster screen, which lists trainees as well as the three-dot ellipsis menu displaying action items; Appointment Form Screen: On the Appointment Form screen, accessible when creating or amending in-progress appointments, users can specify the details of a trainee as well as the trainee’s appointment, save the form as a draft, and eventually submit the form to the agency; see Figure 4.; Not shown is a similar screen for terminations, titled Termination Notice, which can be accessed for trainees who are eligible to have their appointments terminated.

Additional Information: The purpose of this Notice of Funding Opportunity (NOFO) is to invite R01 applications on chronic conditions understudied among women and/or that disproportionately affect populations of women who are understudied, underrepresented, and underreported in biomedical Research. The NOFOs align with Goal 1 of the 2019-2023 Trans-NIH Strategic Plan for Women’s Health Research "Advancing Science for the Health of Women." The awards under this NOFO will be administered by NIH ICs using funds that have been made available through the Office of Research on Women’s Health (ORWH) and the scientific partnering Institutes and Centers across NIH; ORWH Notices of Funding Opportunities: Understanding Chronic Conditions Understudied Among Women (R01 and R21); NIH, National Institutes of Health; Office of Research on Women's Health; ORWH Notices of Funding Opportunities: Understanding Chronic Conditions Understudied Among Women; R21 recently released two Notices of Funding Opportunities (NOFO), Understanding Chronic Conditions Understudied Among Women, to support research on chronic conditions that affect women and individuals assigned female at birth. The purpose of the NOFOs are to invite applications on chronic conditions understudied among women and/or that disproportionately affect populations of women who are understudied, underrepresented, and underreported in biomedical Research. The NOFOs align with Goal 1 of the 2019-2023 Trans-NIH Strategic Plan for Women’s Health Research "Advancing Science for the Health of Women."; The NOFOs will support research on chronic conditions that affect all women and individuals assigned female at birth that remain understudied building upon opportunities identified at the ORWH-led Advancing NIH Research on Women’s Health: A 2021 Conference. The U.S. Department of Health and Human Services defines chronic conditions as "conditions that last a year or more and require ongoing medical attention and/or limit activities of daily living." Sex and gender influence prevention, diagnosis, and treatment of chronic conditions and multimorbidity among women. Women have higher prevalence of chronic conditions; often present with different symptoms (e.g., dizziness rather than chest pain with cardiac disease); are affected by different chronic conditions (e.g., female-specific conditions, autoimmune disease); and accumulate multi-morbidity at different life course timepoints (e.g., after menopause) compared to men. Additionally, the burden of chronic conditions is not evenly distributed among communities of women, with higher prevalence among populations of women historically understudied and underrepresented in biomedical research.; ORWH is interested in research on approaches to understanding chronic conditions and multimorbidity in women that include Understanding the underlying mechanisms of disease (including sex and gender differences); Identifying environmental factors (including psychosocial, socioeconomic, and sociocultural determinants of health) that influence risk; Improving prevention, diagnosis and treatment interventions; and Improving quality of life following diagnosis.; Research on chronic conditions with differential prevalence, morbidity and/or mortality in populations of women historically understudied and underrepresented in biomedical research is of particular interest. [NTW] [SPA ANNOUNCEMENTS/RASCAL]

Upcoming Significant Changes to Rascal Proposal Tracking; Sponsored Projects Administration (SPA), in collaboration with Columbia University Information Technology (CUIT), is excited to announce Rascal Proposal Tracking 3.0, anticipated to be released the end of March 2023.

What’s changed? Rascal Proposal Tracking 3.0 has been modernized with new functionality to make it easier to identify, sort, and filter projects.

Webinar Wednesday, March 29 [Archival information will be posted when available]

Weekly Office Hours, Tuesdays, April 4 – April 25; 9:30 am – 10:30 am Eastern Time

SPA Project Officers Department Assignments | Columbia | Research

Sponsor: SPA, CUIT

Deadline(s): 03/22/2023, 03/29/2023 (Archival Webinar Dates); 04/04/2023 – 04/25/2023 (Weekly Office Hours, Tuesdays 9:30-10:30 AM) [Extended through June]

Additional Information: Upcoming Significant Changes to Rascal Proposal Tracking; Sponsored Projects Administration (SPA), in collaboration with Columbia University Information Technology (CUIT), is excited to announce Rascal Proposal Tracking 3.0, anticipated to be released the end of March 2023. What is Rascal Proposal Tracking? Rascal Proposal Tracking is currently required to register any new or competing renewal grant or contract proposals with SPA. It captures critical proposal and compliance details used by your SPA Project Officer for proposal review and submission to a sponsor. Rascal Proposal Tracking is also used to register proposal resubmissions, transfer applications, non-competing continuations, supplemental requests, and cost extensions. What’s changed? Rascal Proposal Tracking 3.0 has been modernized with new functionality to make it easier to identify, sort, and filter projects. Several data entry fields have been removed to reduce burden, while others have been enhanced to improve data collection and reporting. New validations have been created to highlight missing or potentially inaccurate information. It is easier to identify changes that have been made in Rascal Proposal Tracking throughout the registration and finalization process in close collaborations with the SPA Project Officer. Will there be training? Yes! We have scheduled two webinars to provide the research community with an overview of Rascal Proposal Tracking 3.0. The sessions will be recorded. You can register for one of the following dates: Wednesday, March 22; 2:00 pm – 3:30 pm Eastern Time; Wednesday, March 29; 2:00 pm – 3:30 pm Eastern Time. In addition, we will be holding weekly office hours in April 2023 to assist you and answer your specific questions. To register for office hours: Tuesdays, April 4 – April 25; 9:30 am – 10:30 am Eastern Time. We will provide more detailed information and resources as we get closer to the release of Rascal Proposal Tracking 3.0. For questions, please contact your SPA Project Officer; Stephanie F. Scott, MS, CRA; Director of Policy and Research Development; Columbia | Research; Sponsored Projects Administration; Columbia University & Columbia University Irving Medical Center; Email: stephanie.scott@columbia.edu; Website: https://spa.columbia.edu/

[NTW] [NIH DATA MANAGEMENT AND SHARING POLICY]

NIH just released new guidance on budgeting and costs in their NIH Data Management and Sharing (DMS) Policy FAQs. A significant change SPA wishes to highlight: Personnel Effort: Per NIH’s Budget/Costs FAQ 6, “All costs for data management and sharing activities, including personnel costs, must be included in the single line item on the R&R Budget Form in section F. Other Direct Costs. This includes the salary and fringe benefits corresponding to the time it takes personnel to undertake data activities (e.g., formatting, curating, developing supporting documentation). Do not include personnel costs related to data management and sharing activities in section A. Senior/Key Person or section B. other Personnel. Supporting details, including a breakdown of any personnel effort, must be included in the budget justification.”; This is a change from our previous guidance.

Additional Information: NIH just released new guidance on budgeting and costs in their NIH Data Management and Sharing (DMS) Policy FAQs. A significant change we wish to highlight: Personnel Effort: Per NIH’s Budget/Costs FAQ 6, “All costs for data management and sharing activities, including personnel costs, must be included in the single line item on the R&R Budget Form in section F. Other Direct Costs. This includes the salary and fringe benefits corresponding to the time it takes personnel to undertake data activities (e.g., formatting, curating, developing supporting documentation). Do not include personnel costs related to data management and sharing activities in section A. Senior/Key Person or section B. other Personnel. Supporting details, including a breakdown of any personnel effort, must be included in the budget justification.”; This is a change from our previous guidance. We have revised our FAQ (under topic: Budget Issues) to align with NIH. You should discontinue using previously suggested template language in the budget justification.; If you submitted a proposal to NIH on or after January 25, 2023 and have concerns about this change, note that NIH has stated regarding their assessment of the budget that “peer reviewers may provide comments on the reasonableness of the budget, but these comments will not impact the score. Peer reviewers will only use the information found in the budget justification to determine whether the requested DMS costs are reasonable and will not be provided with the separate DMS Plan attachment (see NOT-OD-22-189).” Therefore, the Just-In-Time (JIT) period will be used to correct or modify budgets and budget justifications. We expect NIH will continue to release additional budgeting guidance between now and prior to JIT.; Please direct all questions regarding these changes to data-management@columbia.edu.; [brought to our attention by] Stephanie F. Additional Information: Given the number of NIH proposals planned for submission for NIH’s deadline on Monday, February 6th, we wanted to send a quick clarification regarding the costs associated with Dryad, a generalist digital data repository that is an option to meet the data sharing requirements under the NIH Data Management and Sharing (DMS) Policy. For Dryad, data deposit fees are waived for Columbia researchers, except for large datasets that exceed 50 GB. Costs for large datasets over 50 GB will vary depending on size of the data deposit. For more information, see Dryad’s terms. As reminder, it is best to follow NIH’s guidelines on selecting a repository, and take into consideration the following before selection: Does the NIH funding opportunity announcement (FOA), or NIH Institute, mandate a particular repository for data sharing? If no; Is there an NIH-supported data repository that is appropriate for your data type? If no; Consider a generalist repository, such as Dryad; or Columbia’s data storage options, some of which can act as repositories for data sharing; For questions, please reach out to data-management@columbia.edu; [brought to our attention by] Stephanie F. Additional Information: SPA provided two important clarifications for PIs regarding: (1) the use of DMTool and NIH’s formatting requirements, and (2) when the Resource Sharing Plans are required in addition to the Data Management and Sharing Plan. DMPTool - When using DMPTool to create the DMS Plan, the Plan must comply with all of NIH's formatting requirements. Otherwise, the application is at risk of getting withdrawn. This includes font size, margins, and no URLs or hyperlinks are allowed. You should download the Plan created in DMPTool as a Word document to make sure you can meet all formatting requirements. See this one-page DMPTool Formatting Guide for NIH Proposals. Resource Sharing Plan(s) - When the new DMS Policy took effect on January 25, 2023, it eliminated the requirement to include a Data Sharing Plan (under the 2003 policy), or a Genomic Data Sharing Plan, in the Resource Sharing Plan(s) section of the application. Instead, only one DMS Plan is needed (even if subject to the Genomic Data Sharing Policy), which is included in the Other Plan(s) section of the application. See Writing a DMS Plan, which contains additional instructions for applications subject to the Genomic Data Sharing Policy. A Resource Sharing Plan(s) is required only when the PI plans to create the following two items: Model Organisms – unique model organisms, including unique mammalian and non-mammalian models; and/or Research Tools – unique research resources that can be useful for many others and many projects.; See NIH Instructions on Resource Sharing Plans for FORMS-H.; For questions about DMPTool, or the contents of the DMS Plans, please contact data-management@columbia.edu. Additional Information: This Notice describes minor updates to NIH Institutional Certification forms and instructions for completing those forms, which are required for submission of human genomic data subject to the NIH Genomic Data Sharing (GDS) Policy. The Institutional Certification form assures NIH that submission of large-scale human genomic data and subsequent sharing for research purposes to an NIH-designated data repository is consistent with applicable laws, regulations and institutional policies, the informed consent of research participants from whom data was obtained, and that risks to participants and others have been considered.

Advanced Research Projects Agency for Health (ARPA-H) Open-Office Broad Agency Announcement (BAA); View the BAA; Download PDF
Dear Colleagues,

As you may be aware, the Advanced Research Projects Agency for Health (ARPA-H) has recently opened its first broad agency announcement (BAA) to solicit applications. Below is some general guidance for the University community that is interested in applying. More specific information, including the BAA, may be located at ARPA-H BAA. Individuals can self-register for an eCPS account. Please note you must use a Columbia-affiliated email account to register, please do not use a personal email address; Abstracts: Abstracts will be accepted via the electronic Contract Proposal Submission (eCPS) portal and evaluated by ARPA-H. It is recommended that initial abstracts are submitted through your SPA Project Officer. A Rascal PT is not necessary at the time of abstract submission. Full Proposal: If selected to submit a full proposal, it must be submitted via your SPA Project Officer. A Rascal PT will also be needed at this time. Both the Abstract and Full Proposal require a Cover Sheet with specific administrative point of contact information included. Please use the following Institutional Information for your Cover Sheet; (3) Lead Organization – The Trustees of Columbia University in the City of New York; (4) Type of organization – OTHER EDUCATIONAL, Private non-profit University; (9) Administrative point of contact: William Berger; Assistant Vice President; Sponsored Projects Administration; (Medical Center); 630 West 168th Street, Box 49; New York, NY 10032; 212-305-4191; grants-office@columbia.edu; (Morningside); 615 West 131st Street, 6th Floor, MC 8725; New York, NY 10027; 212-854-6851; ms-grants-office@columbia.edu. Additional Information: Two Important Federal Legal Requirements; Dear Members of the Research Community, We write to remind you of two important federal legal requirements related to sponsored projects: Certification of current and pending/other support (per Section 223 of the William M. (Mac) Thornberry National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2021); Federal law requires principal investigators and senior/key persons to: disclose the amount, type, and source of all current and pending research support received by, or expected to be received by, the individual as of the time of the disclosure; certify that the disclosure is current, accurate, and complete; and update such disclosure at the request of the agency prior to the award of support and at any subsequent time the agency determines appropriate during the term of the award.; Currently, funding agencies vary in their implementation of the certification requirement. Information related to specific funding agency requirements is available on the Funding Applications and Progress Reports Disclosure page of the University’s Science and Security website. If you are uncertain whether to make a disclosure, we recommend that you err on the side of transparency. Please contact your Sponsored Projects Administration project officer with questions.; Prohibition against use of certain telecom or video surveillance equipment (per Section 889 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019); The U.S. Government prohibits Columbia from using certain telecommunications or video surveillance equipment, produced by certain companies, as a substantial or essential component or as critical technology for any system. These rules, which apply to all recipients of federal funding, also prohibit the use of federal funds to procure or obtain covered telecommunications equipment.
or services. These restrictions apply to all purchases completed through a University Purchase Order, P-Card, AP Voucher or reimbursement of a personal charge through Concur.; “Covered telecommunications equipment or services” are: Telecommunications equipment or services produced by Huawei Technologies Company, ZTE Corporation, or any subsidiary or affiliate of these entities; and Video surveillance technology and equipment or services used for certain public safety, physical surveillance, or national security purposes and produced by Hytera Communications Corporation, Hangzhou Hikvision Digital Technology Company, Dahua Technology Company, or any subsidiary or affiliate of these entities.; For more information about this prohibition and to access lists of the prohibited companies and their subsidiaries and affiliates, please visit Research Compliance and Training’s Economic Sanctions and Restricted Parties webpage.; For Procurement-related questions, please contact Hugh Horowitz, Procurement Services, at hugh.horowitz@columbia.edu. Additional Information: [brought to our attention by Stephanie Scott]; Sending this announcement, campus-wide, on behalf of Dr. Utpal Pajvani, Director, Scholarly Projects Program, and Dr. Anil K. Lalwani, VP&S Associate Dean of Student Research. Please see solicitation below. For more information about the Scholarly Projects Program (SPP), click here. You may also email psspp@cumc.columbia.edu.; Dear Faculty, We write to solicit Columbia faculty mentors for medical students involved in research through the Scholarly Projects Program (SPP). The SPP, now in its 10th year, links 4th year Columbia medical students with faculty mentors to explore an area of medical practice or research with the aim of creating new knowledge. The SPP aims to develop students’ abilities in the following School-Wide Learning Objectives: (i) generate hypotheses, exhibit curiosity and develop a pattern of life-long learning and (ii) participate in the process through which new knowledge is generated, and assess the importance of novel ideas. After students identify a faculty mentor, they co-develop project ideas and eventually spend 4-6 months working on their project with protected time in their 4th year of medical school. In order to facilitate matching students with mentors in their area of interest we are soliciting mentors and projects for the 2022-2023 academic year. If you are interested in serving as a mentor for the SPP, please click this link to provide a short description of your work: https://cumc.co1.qualtrics.com/jfe/form/SV_eDVeU9mhtmYGhg; Students may apply for funding for their project, and mentors receive a $1000 stipend for their time and effort. Beyond these considerations, both students and mentors find the SPP experience highly rewarding.; Thank you for your time and consideration. We will share your information with our students and advise them to reach out to you or your contact person as indicated on the form. If you have any questions, please email psspp@cumc.columbia.edu.; Best, Utpal Pajvani, MD, PhD; Director, Scholarly Projects Program; Anil K. Lalwani, MD; VP&S Associate Dean of Student Research

Additional Information: Newly Funded New York City Center Aims to Reduce Health Disparities in Multiple Chronic Diseases; A multi-institutional group in New York City has united to address health disparities in multiple chronic diseases through the Center to Improve Chronic Disease Outcomes through Multi-level and Multi-generational Approaches Unifying Novel Interventions and Training for Health Equity (COMMUNITY Center). The vision of the center is rooted in public health tenets, recognizing that medical advances alone can only partially reduce the inequitable burden of disease in people of color. Reducing health disparities in chronic diseases requires multi-faceted approaches that intervene on structural, community, family and individual level determinants of health and well-being.; Please note the Community Center’s website where students, faculty and doctors may be interested in reviewing. It has links in which information for the IDC (Investigator Development Core) can be found. We will be starting a next cycle phase in a few months, which will also be announced. The research funded application is found within this link and we welcome applications from early-stage investigators from CUI, WE-CORN, Hunter or PAGNY that are post-doctoral fellows, junior faculty conducting research, or non-research track clinicians. Additional Information: New NIH Structural Racism and Discrimination Funding Opportunity; Dear PEPH colleagues, NIEHS is thrilled to announce our participation in PAR-23-112, Addressing the Impact of Structural Racism and Discrimination on Minority Health and Health Disparities. This initiative will support intervention research that addresses structural racism and discrimination (SRD) in order to improve minority health or reduce health disparities.; Please share with your networks!; Please direct inquiries to Lindsey Martin lindsey.martin@nih.gov; Application Due Dates: March 24, 2023; October 10, 2023; October 9, 2024; October 9, 2025; NIEHS is interested in applications that are within scope of our 2018-2023 Strategic Plan, that meet the criteria established in this FOA, and focus on intervention research that mitigates or prevents the impacts of environmental exposures on communities due to structural racism and discrimination (SRD). Examples of environmental exposures which are considered of primary interest for NIEHS include but are not limited to: industrial chemicals or manufacturing byproducts, metals, pesticides, herbicides, air pollutants and other inhaled toxicants, particulates, or fibers, fungal, and bacterial or biologically derived toxins. Applicants are strongly encouraged to utilize community engaged research approaches that ensure equity, such as including community partners as part of the research team along with letters of support from community partners. Applications that demonstrate collaborative (i.e., community-academic partnerships) intervention approaches to address the negative health effects of SRD across multiple populations with environmental health disparities will be prioritized.
NIEHS is particularly interested in intervention research on a subtype of SRD - environmental racism. For the purposes of this FOA, environmental racism includes the use of racist and discriminatory practices in determining which communities receive health-protective (i.e., green space) or health-harming infrastructure (i.e., industrial complexes). Areas of specific interest to NIEHS include, but are not limited to: Interventions that prevent or mitigate single or combined environmental exposures disproportionately affecting the health of one or more communities impacted by environmental racism; Interventions that address the disproportionate health impacts of exposures due to climate change, extreme weather and natural or human caused disasters on communities affected by environmental racism; Interventions that prevent or mitigate disproportionate exposures in the built environment (e.g., mold or lead in housing, lack of greenspace) attributed to systemic neighborhood disinvestment; Interventions that address the role of environmental racism in occupational exposures; Interventions that promote the resiliency of communities experiencing environmental racism; Want to learn more about implementation science and environmental health? Check out this podcast, our website and resources from our workshop!; Lindsey Ann Martin, PhD; Program Officer; National Institute of Environmental Health Sciences (NIEHS); Division of Extramural Research & Training; Population Health Branch; Phone: (984) 287-4036; Email: Lindsey.Martin@nih.gov; PAR-23-112: Addressing the Impact of Structural Racism and Discrimination on Minority Health and Health Disparities (R01 - Clinical Trial Optional) (nih.gov); New NIH Funding Opportunity; Addressing the Impact of Structural Racism and Discrimination on Minority Health and Health Disparities; The National Institute of Environmental Health Sciences (NIEHS) is announcing their participation in Addressing the Impact of Structural Racism and Discrimination on Minority Health and Health Disparities. This initiative will support intervention research that addresses structural racism and discrimination (SRD) in order to improve minority health or reduce health disparities.; Find more information and apply here; Upcoming application due date: March 24, 2023 by 5:00 PM local time of applicant organization.; There is increasing recognition that racism and discrimination contribute to poorer health outcomes for racial/ethnic minorities and other populations that experience health disparities. Health research on racism and discrimination to date has largely focused on interpersonal interactions, and to a lesser extent, one specific form of SRD, residential segregation. Typically, such research focuses on the adverse health consequences of SRD exposures. Less research has explored the resilience among populations exposed to SRD or community strategies to resist or mitigate historic or contemporary SRD exposures. Additionally, intervention research has rarely emphasized reduction of SRD as a strategy to improve health and reduce disparities. Research on mitigation of SRD is needed to inform health care and social policies at all levels.; NIEHS is interested in applications that are within scope of their 2018-2023 Strategic Plan, that meet the criteria established in this funding opportunity announcement and focus on intervention research that mitigates or prevents the impacts of environmental exposures on communities due to SRD.; Applicants are strongly encouraged to utilize community engaged research approaches that ensure equity, such as including community partners as part of the research team along with letters of support from community partners.; Areas of specific interest to NIEHS include, but are not limited to: Interventions that prevent or mitigate single or combined environmental exposures disproportionately affecting the health of one or more communities impacted by environmental racism; Interventions that address the disproportionate health impacts of exposures due to climate change, extreme weather and natural or human caused disasters on communities affected by environmental racism; Interventions that prevent or mitigate disproportionate exposures in the built environment (e.g., mold or lead in housing, lack of greenspace) attributed to systemic neighborhood disinvestment; Interventions that address the role of environmental racism in occupational exposures; Interventions that promote the resiliency of communities experiencing environmental racism; Please direct inquiries to Lindsey Martin lindsey.martin@nih.gov

NIH Grants Conference & PreCon Events; Calendar
NIH Grants Conference; Registration
Sponsor: NIH
Deadline(s): 08/25/2022 (First Event); 02/02, 03/2023 (Virtual Conference Dates)
Contact: ExtramuralNexus@mail.nih.gov; Event Questions and Special Requests: NIHGrantsEvents@nih.gov (Submit no less than 3 days prior to the event, if possible.)
Additional Information: NIH is going to host a series of webinars on various topics on a monthly basis (what they're calling 'pre-conference' events), as well as host the 2022-2023 Virtual NIH Grants Conference. You can register for these today! Go to their new NIH Grants Conference and PreCon Events webpage to register.; Below is their official announcement and schedule. It kicks off this month with a session on the NIH Loan Repayment Program (LRP) on Thursday, August 25th, from 2 – 3:30pm EDT.; These are open to anyone with all levels of experience: Research Administrators, Researchers, Grant Writers, PostDocs, Trainees, and others in the research community. See below for additional details. [brought to our attention by] Stephanie Scott; Mike Lauer; Subject: 2022-2023 Virtual NIH Grants Conference and PreCon Events: New Name! New Approach! Deeper Dive!; Reimagine: to reinterpret (an event, work of art, etc.) imaginatively; rethink: If you have followed my blogs through the years, you know I am a huge fan of an NIH event focused on bringing the extramural research community together with NIH experts to share knowledge, perspectives, guidance, and resources on the NIH grants process and policies. The event has evolved through the years in format, reach, and trans-NIH involvement. Each year, I thought its success would be hard to top...yet somehow it happened. For decades it was known as the "NIH Regional Seminar on Program Funding and Grants Administration." We capped events at 900 attendees. In 2020, it was hosted online and became the "NIH Virtual Seminar." Last year, over 15,000 attendees participated, representing every state, and over 100 countries. Yet here we are again...reimagining what it could be...reimagining what it should be.; For the past two years, our virtual seminar has spanned four days and included 50 sessions. That is a lot of information for attendees to digest in a short period of time! This year, we thought participants would appreciate the opportunity to get the content over a longer period, allowing time for the information to digest. In addition, by pulling select topics out of the larger conference and sharing them in monthly preconference events, there is the opportunity to dive deeper into issues and build time for additional Q&A, case studies, and conversation.; To this end, I’d like to introduce you to our new, NIH Grants Conference and PreCon Events... all hosted within our virtual conference center. Visit the Conference Calendar of Events to view the times and descriptions for each: August 25: NIH Loan Repayment Programs: Supporting the Next Generation of Researchers; September 15: Navigating Early Career Funding Opportunities; October 14: Research Misconduct & Integrity; November 9: Foreign Collaborations: Policies, Processes, & Partnerships; December 6 & 7: Human Subjects: Policies, Clinical Trials, & Inclusion; January 12, 2023 Making the Most of the 2023 NIH Grants Conference; February 1 & 2, 2023: 2023 Virtual NIH Grants Conference: Funding, Policies, & Processes; I am excited about the new opportunities this conference approach will provide everyone involved. Here are additional details about some of this year's conference features.; All-Access Conference Pass: There are no fees for signing up. Once you register, your log-in and password provide you access to all of the PreCon Events, 2-Day Conference, On-Demand Library, Exhibit Hall, and additional opportunities to engage with NIH and your peers.; Virtual Conference Center: The conference and designated preconference events will take place on a single, online platform called vFairs, the same one used for the past two NIH Virtual Seminars. The Exhibit Hall will be available throughout the year for perusing NIH Institute and program booths and collecting valuable information; booths will be staffed for the 2-day conference.; Build Your Personalized Agenda. Once you register to access our conference center, you can add any of the on-demand videos, PreCon Events, or NIH Grants Conference sessions to your agenda, guaranteeing that you won't miss out!; First Event: Thursday, August 25, from 2:00 – 3:30 PM ET – We are pleased to kick off the PreCon Events with experts from the NIH Loan Repayment Program (LRP). This informative and interactive virtual event will provide participants a valuable opportunity to gain program information on how NIH can help pay off a researcher's student debt, as well as guidance on the LRP application process.; We hope you are as excited as we are about the opportunities the virtual conference center and the planned events offer participants. Register today to get your All-Access Conference Pass. Within a couple of weeks, the conference center will open and be ready for you to explore and plan your NIH Grants Conference experience!; 2022-2023 Virtual NIH Grants Conference and PreCon Events #NIHgrantsconf; View article

Using a convergence approach and innovation processes like human-centered design, user discovery, and team science and integration of multidisciplinary research, the Convergence Accelerator program seeks to transition basic research and discovery into practice — to solve high-impact societal challenges aligned with specific research themes (tracks). The NSF Convergence Accelerator Phases 1 and 2 for the 2023 Cohort - Tracks K, L, M solicitation consists of three tracks as follows: Track K: Equitable Water Solutions; Track L: Real-World Chemical Sensing Applications; Track M: Bio-Inspired Design Innovations; The NSF Convergence Accelerator seeks to support use-inspired research and enable the accelerated transition of that research into benefits for society through a two-phase process; Phase 1: Learning + Applying the Convergence Accelerator Fundamentals, Convergence Research Planning; Phase 1 funding is up to $750,000 for 12 months duration. It supports nine months of planning effort to further develop the initial concept, identify new team members and partners, participate in the program's innovation curriculum, and refine an initial prototype.; After nine months of effort, Phase 1 teams participate in a proposal and pitch presentation process, which is used in selecting teams for Phase 2.; Phase 2: Continued Application of the Convergence Accelerator Fundamentals, Prototyping and Sustainability Planning; Selected teams from Phase 1 will proceed to Phase 2, with potential funding of up to $5 Million as a cooperative agreement for 24 months. Phase 2 teams will continue to apply Convergence Accelerator fundamentals, including identifying new team members and end-user partnerships to further develop solution prototypes and to build a sustainability model to continue impact beyond NSF support; Program Solicitation; https://www.nsf.gov/pubs/2023/nsf23590/nsf23590.pdf; Research Initiatives & Development; COLUMBIA RESEARCH; Office of the Executive Vice President for Research; Columbia University in the City of New York; https://research.columbia.edu/initiatives requirements. Stay tuned!; NSF System Enhancements to Support the Revised PAPPG (NSF 23-1); Dear Colleagues: Effective today, the National Science Foundation (NSF) made a number of system updates in Research.gov, FastLane, and Grants.gov in accordance with implementation of the revised Proposal & Award Policies & Procedures Guide (PAPPG) (NSF 23-1) for proposals submitted or due on or after January 30, 2023. Please see the Summary of Changes to the PAPPG (NSF 23-1) and view the Fall 2022 PAPPG (NSF 23-1) Revisions presentation; Proposal Preparation and Submission in Research.gov; New proposals must be prepared and submitted in Research.gov. FastLane proposal preparation and submission functionality has been decommissioned. Grants.gov remains a submission option for most NSF proposals.; New supplemental funding requests must be submitted in Research.gov regardless of the system (Research.gov, FastLane, or Grants.gov) used for proposal submission.; Multiple Research.gov training resources are available: Visit the Research.gov About Proposal Preparation and Submission page for Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs), how-to guides, and video tutorials and the Research.gov About Supplemental Funding Request Preparation and Submission page for FAQs.; Explore preparing Research.gov proposals and supplemental funding requests on the Research.gov Proposal Preparation Demo Site and Research.gov Supplemental Funding Request Demo Site. All Research.gov automated compliance checks are enabled on the demo sites, and the sites can be used to verify proposal and supplemental funding request document compliance in Research.gov before uploading documents in the actual systems.; View the Fall 2022 Proposal Submission Modernization Update recording including a demo of Research.gov proposal preparation features.; Additional System Enhancements to Support the PAPPG (NSF 23-1); Biographical Sketch and Current and Pending (Other) Support; As of January 30, 2023, Research.gov and Grants.gov only accept the revised biographical sketch and current and pending (other) support formats. Research.gov and Grants.gov will generate a compliance error message if a proposer or grantee attempts to upload a prior version of either document.; The revised biographical sketch and current and pending (other) support formats are in SciENcv, and the fillable PDFs are available on the NSF biographical sketch and current and pending (other) support websites. Proposers currently may use either SciENcv or the fillable PDFs. Beginning October 23, 2023, use of SciENcv will become mandatory.; The Research.gov Project Reporting System will enforce use of the revised current and pending (other) support format when uploaded in annual and final project reports.; View the NSF Biographical Sketch and Current and Pending (Other) Support: SciENcv and NSF Formats webinar, NSF presentation, and NIH presentation.; Concept Outlines and ProSPCT; Emails generated by the Program Suitability and Proposal Concept Tool (ProSPCT) for the concept outline submission type can be uploaded in the Research.gov ; Proposal Submission System. This applies to Rapid Response Research (RAPID), Early-concept Grants for Exploratory Research (EAGER), Research Advanced by Interdisciplinary Science and Engineering (RAISE), and Planning proposals.; For additional guidance, refer to PAPPG Chapter I.D.1. and view the Concept Outlines at NSF webinar.; Additional Updates; A new checkbox has been added to the proposal Cover Sheet for Safe and Inclusive Working Environments for Off-Campus or Off-Site Research. Refer to the PAPPG Chapter II.E.9.; Functionality has been added in the Research.gov Proposal Submission System for proposers to provide updated current and pending (other) support information requested by NSF program officers prior to making funding recommendations. Refer to PAPPG Chapter II.D.2.h.(ii); A new Post Award Disclosure of Current Support and In-Kind Contributions notification has been added. Access this new request using the Notification & Requests link under Awards & Reporting on the Research.gov My Desktop page. Refer to PAPPG Chapter 9.C.; FastLane Decommissioning; Limited FastLane proposal capabilities such as proposal file updates and budget revisions will remain available for FastLane-submitted proposals until September 29, 2023. This includes proposals submitted to NSF via Grants.gov on or before November 18, 2022.; Refer to the FastLane Decommissioning page for additional information. This page will be updated on an ongoing basis.; Questions; For NSF technical questions or immediate assistance, please contact the NSF Help Desk (7:00 AM – 9:00 PM Eastern Time, Monday through Friday except for federal holidays): Email the NSF Help Desk: rgov@nsf.gov; Call the NSF Help Desk: 1-800-381-1532; For NIH SciENcv technical questions or immediate assistance, please contact the NIH Help Desk (7:30 AM – 5:30 PM Eastern Time, Monday through Friday except for federal holidays): Email the NIH Help Desk: info@ncbi.nlm.nih.gov; Create a ticket: https://support.nlm.nih.gov/support/create-case/; Policy-related questions should be directed to policy@nsf.gov; My best regards, Jean; Jean Feldman; Head, Policy Office; Division of Institution and Award Support; Office of Budget, Finance and Award Management.; New resources to assist with the NSF biographical sketch and current and pending (other) support forms; The new NSF Proposal and Award Policies and Procedures Guide (PAPPG) (NSF 23-1) took effect this week for proposals submitted on, or due on or after, Monday, January 30, 3023. To assist with the creation of NSF’s new Biographical Sketches and Current & Pending (C&P) Support formats, we provide you with the following: Resources; Have I Included...? - a questionnaire to assist you with ensuring all projects and in-kind contributions are included in the C&P form.; The Rascal Other Support Tool - a starting point to assist researchers in identifying current and pending sponsored projects required to be disclosed in Other Support/Current and Pending Support forms for federal agencies. Researchers can download an Excel report to send to administrators assisting with C&P Support. The Other Support Tool contains only proposals from and awards to Columbia. It does not include other information required in C&P Support, such as in-kind contributions. The researcher is responsible for including all required information.; NSF’s video and slide decks from their recent webinar on the revised Biographical Sketches and C&P formats, with a SciENcv demonstration.; View our last town hall slide decks and the latest information at NSF Researcher Disclosure Requirements.; Reminders: The Biographical Sketch and Current & Pending (Other) Support formats contain a new certification requirement, in accordance with Section 223(a)(1) of the William M. (Mac) Thornberry National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2021 (42 USC 6605(a)(1)). Senior personnel are required to certify that the information provided in their Biographical Sketch and Current and Pending Support documents are accurate, current, and complete.; The signature requirement cannot be delegated and must be completed by the person submitting the biographical sketch or current and pending support.; You can use either NSF’s PDF-fillable Biographical Sketches and Current & Pending (C&P) Support formats, containing the revision date “rev. 01/19/2023”, or you can use SciENcv to create these forms. Earlier versions of these formats will not be accepted in Research.gov, and will cause compliance errors if a proposer attempts to upload a prior version of either document.; If using the PDF-fillable forms, you should not use DocuSign, or any other e-signature software. The certification requires a typed name and date only. Using an e-signature will generate errors upon proposal submission.; If you choose to use SciENcv, we strongly encourage you to view NSF’s webinar first to learn the latest information on how to use SciENcv to include the newly required certifications.; SciENcv will be required beginning October 23, 2023. At that time, the PDF-fillable versions will no longer be available or accepted.; Please feel free to contact your SPA Project Officer with questions.; Stephanie F. Additional Information: Dear NSF-funded Researchers and Applicants, As we have previously communicated, as of today (January 30, 2023) all NSF proposals that include off-campus or off-site research must have a plan to ensure a safe and inclusive work environment for that specific project, and must share the plan with all participants. NSF defines “off-campus or off-site research” as “data/information/samples being collected off-campus or off-site, such as fieldwork on research vessels and aircraft.”; To support principal investigators in meeting this new requirement, we have created two templates that principal investigators can download, customize for their specific project(s), and then disseminate to their team members: Template Plan for Ensuring a Safe and Inclusive Work Environment for Off-Campus or Off-site Research Activity. This template plan (“Plan”) includes a project-specific information sheet for the Principal Investigator to complete, plus a description of Columbia-wide policies, resources and information relevant to safe and inclusive research environments, and a place to add any school or departmental resources.; Template Email to Disseminate Plan. NSF requires the Plan to be disseminated to all members of the team before they depart for field or off-site research activity. Principal investigators should use this template email to do so. It is important for principal investigators and/or their administrators to keep a copy of the email after it is sent, to document that this NSF requirement was fulfilled. In addition, as of today, a new certification has been added to the Rascal Proposal Tracking Data Sheet, to confirm compliance with this requirement. The certification says: “I/we certify that a plan has been developed for this proposal in accordance with NSF requirements on ensuring a Safe and Inclusive Working Environments for Off-Campus or Off-Site Research.”; Please note: In general, NSF does not require the plan to be submitted to NSF. However, several solicitations from the NSF Directorates for Biological Sciences (BIO) and Geosciences (GEO) will soon require the submission of a Safe and Inclusive Work Environments Plan that will be considered as part of the Broader Impacts criteria during the review process. Program Directors from BIO and GEO will hold a Virtual Office Hour on Tuesday, February 7, 2023; 3:30 - 4:30 PM Eastern on this new pilot effort regarding Safe and Inclusive Work Environments Plans. Register here for this webinar.; If you have questions about this new requirement, please contact your SPA Project Officer.; Thank you.; William Berger; AVP for Sponsored Projects Administration; Naomi Schrag; Vice President for Research Compliance, Training and Policy

Additional Information: Yesterday, NSF provided key updates regarding its new Biographical Sketch and Current & Pending (Other) Support formats. This is important information for those of you who may have started working on the new forms for upcoming submissions or are about to do so, as follows: Late yesterday, NSF replaced the PDF-fillable US NSF – About Biographical Sketches and US NSF – About Current and Pending (Other) Support formats on their webpages to correct the formatting in order to be compliant (see notice below). These formats now have a revision date, “rev. 01/19/2023” indicated on the bottom right footer.; You must use these latest versions of the PDF-fillable forms in order to be compliant. If you downloaded the forms within the last week, you must make sure to use this latest format with the rev. 01/19/2023 in the bottom right corner.; The use of these new forms, or SciENcv, is required for proposals submitted on, or due on or after January 30, 2023. You cannot upload these new forms prior to January 30th; there will be system errors. You can, however, start using the forms now, and upload to Research.gov on or after that date.; These clarifications were made during a webinar NSF conducted yesterday to review the new PDF-fillable Biographical Sketches and Current & Pending (Other) Support formats, as well as SciENcv. A video recording and slides will be available soon on their website at the Resource Center – NSF Policy Office Outreach (nsfpolicyoutreach.com). I will notify you when the materials become available.; [brought to our attention by Stephanie Scott]; Enhancements to the NSF biographical sketch and current and pending (other) support fillable PDF formats; Dear colleagues, NSF has recently made enhancements to the biographical sketch and current and pending (other) support fillable PDF formats. The updated formats are consistent with the Proposal and Award Policies and Procedures Guide (PAPPG) Proposal & Award Policies & Procedures Guide (PAPPG) (NSF 23-1) | NSF - National Science Foundation

Additional Information: See the announcement below from NSF with the latest information concerning the transition to Research.gov, and the decommissioning of FastLane. Research.gov can now accommodate supplemental funding requests, and
Dear Colleagues,

We are pleased to announce that supplemental funding requests, including Career-Life Balance requests, can now be prepared in Research.gov. Supplemental funding requests can be submitted in Research.gov regardless of the system used (Research.gov, FastLane, or Grants.gov) for proposal submission. FastLane supplemental funding request functionality will remain available in parallel for the preparation and submission of new requests until January 27, 2023. In addition, the last two proposal types for the Small Business Innovation Research Program (SBIR) and the Small Business Technology Transfer Program (STTR) will be enabled in Research.gov for the fiscal year (FY) 2023 competitions. With all proposal and submission types soon fully supported in Research.gov, the system will be ready for the transition from FastLane for the preparation and submission of all new proposals in late January 2023, when the Proposal and Award Policies and Procedures Guide (PAPPG) (NSF 23-1) is effective. The last day to submit new proposals in FastLane is January 27, 2023.

Please see the table of important FastLane transition deadlines below. Additional information will be forthcoming on the transition of other FastLane functionality and a FastLane Decommissioning webpage is being developed.

New Supplemental Funding Request Functionality: The Research.gov Supplemental Funding Request System has many features to help reduce administrative burden, including: Intuitive and dynamic interfaces which provide only relevant preparation options; Inline help features; Fast document uploads and immediate feedback within each section; and Automated compliance checks with specific, actionable warning and error messages. The new Research.gov Supplemental Funding Request Demo Site can be used to explore preparing supplemental requests and to check the compliance of uploaded documents. The supplemental funding request functionality and demo site are accessible from new links within the Awards & Reporting tile on the Research.gov My Desktop page after signing in to Research.gov. Topic-specific Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) and demo site guidance are posted on the new Research.gov About Supplemental Funding Request Preparation and Submission page. Please refer to PAPPG Chapter VI.E.5 for supplemental funding request policy guidance. New SBIR and STTR Proposal Types: Proposers will prepare and submit SBIR and STTR Phase I and Phase II proposals in Research.gov for the FY 2023 competitions. SBIR and STTR proposal types will be available to try out on the Research.gov Proposal Preparation Demo Site (you will be prompted to sign in to Research.gov if you are not already signed in) after the SBIR and STTR program solicitations for the FY 2023 competitions are published.

Research.gov Proposal and Supplemental Funding Request Feedback: NSF wants your feedback on the proposal preparation and submission functionality, as well as on the new supplemental funding request enhancements. Your input helps NSF to ensure the systems and demo site features are working as intended and to identify areas of improvement. Feedback may be submitted on the Research.gov Feedback page. Submitted feedback is reviewed on an ongoing basis by NSF’s Research.gov Business Office. Questions? If you have IT system-related questions, please contact the NSF Help Desk at 1-800-381-1532 (7:00 AM - 9:00 PM ET, Monday - Friday except federal holidays) or via email to rgov@nsf.gov. Policy-related questions should be directed to policy@nsf.gov.

Notice of Special Interest (NOSI): Advancing Research on Early Pregnancy Loss

Sponsor: Eunice Kennedy Shriver National Institute of Child Health and Human Development; Office of Research on Women’s Health

Deadline(s): 07/05/2022 (Release Date)

Contact: Please direct all inquiries to: Clara Cheng, PhD; Fertility and Infertility Branch; Eunice Kennedy Shriver National Institute of Child Health and Human Development; Telephone: 301-435-6992; Email: clara.cheng@nih.gov
Early Pregnancy loss (EPL), defined as a pregnancy loss occurring up to 20 weeks gestation, is a very common pregnancy complication, occurring in 12-15% of clinically recognized pregnancies, with increased prevalence associated with increasing maternal age. The use of highly sensitive hCG assays allows the detection of pregnancy earlier in gestation than the time of clinical recognition, and gives an even higher estimated loss of 50-70% of conceptions prior to the second trimester. To achieve a successful pregnancy, a series of strict embryonic and maternal conditions must be met, that include high quality embryos, favorable conditions for embryo implantation, receptive maternal endometrium and optimal uterine environment to sustain the conceptus to term. In addition, maternal immune tolerance and hormonal factors play a critical role. While approximately half of all cases of EPL appear to be due to embryonic aneuploidy, very little is known about the physiologic and pathophysiologic processes that underlie non-aneuploid EPL. As a result, there is also a lack of understanding for the underlying causes of recurrent pregnancy loss (RPL). This NOSI seeks to address these critical knowledge gaps by encouraging basic, translational and clinical studies on biological processes that may uncover potential etiologies of EPL and RPL. This includes research to understand implantation mechanistically and identify a range of key factors, involved in implantation and placentation that are important for early pregnancy establishment, including abnormalities that contribute to sporadic EPL and recurrent pregnancy loss.

[NTW] [NIH ANNOUNCEMENTS/CLIMATE]
NOT-OD-23-113: Reminder: NIH Natural Disaster Policy Mississippi Severe Storms, Straight-line Winds, and Tornadoes
Sponsor: National Institutes of Health
Deadline(s): 04/18/2023 (Release Date)
Contact: Division of Grants Policy; Office of Policy for Extramural Research Administration (OPERA); GrantsPolicy@OD.NIH.gov

Additional Information: On March 26, 2023, President Biden declared that a major disaster exists in the State of Mississippi and ordered Federal aid to supplement State, tribal, and local recovery efforts in the counties of Carroll, Humphreys, Monroe, and Sharkey affected by severe storms, straight-line winds, and tornados from March 24, 2023 to March 25, 2023. NIH is deeply concerned for the health and safety of people and animals, and about the biomedical enterprise in the areas in Mississippi affected by these natural disasters. Due to the exceptional impact of these storms, NIH wants to assure our recipient community that we will be doing our part to help the extramural community continue its research. Our website on Extramural Response to Natural Disasters has a list of available resources, including guidance on animal welfare issues; NIH has identified the following actions to relieve short-term administrative, financial management, and audit requirements under the Uniform Guidance at 2 CFR Part 200 – “Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards” – which are implemented in HHS regulation at 45 CFR 75 – without compromise to accountability requirements. This guidance will be updated as appropriate once further guidance is received from HHS and the Office of Management and Budget (OMB). Specific policy exceptions are detailed below.

These awards are open to both individual scientists and multi-investigator teams. Early career faculty and postdoctoral fellows nearing their transition to independence are especially encouraged to apply, whether individually or within teams. Only U.S. and Canadian citizens, permanent residents, and temporary residents may apply, and applications must be submitted by U.S. or Canadian institutions.; Climate Change and Human Health Seed Grants - Burroughs Wellcome Fund (bwfund.org); 07/12/2023 Deadline; Small grants to promote the growth of new connections between scholars, practitioners, educators, and/or communicators working to understand, spread the word about, and mitigate the impacts of climate change on human health.; Proposals will be accepted on a rolling basis from September 1, 2021 through July 12, 2023. Review will be conducted quarterly. After each quarterly review, we will support, decline, or send proposals back to applicants for revision, but may hold some proposals over for a future review. Recommended revisions may include suggestions that separate groups of applicants submitting similar proposals work together to develop a single proposal or that applicants consider becoming involved in efforts aligned with work funded in earlier quarters.; Several RFPs that could be relevant to MSPH faculty here (climate and health (both a seed grant and larger grant) and PATH): https://www.bwfund.org/upcoming-deadlines/ ; [brought to our attention by] Allyson Velez, MPP; Senior Director of Corporate & Foundation Relations; Columbia Mailman School of Public Health; amr151@cumc.columbia.edu

Additional Information: The Investigators in the Pathogenesis of Infectious Disease (PATH) program provides opportunities for assistant professors to bring multidisciplinary approaches to the study of human infectious diseases. The goal of the program is to provide opportunities for accomplished investigators at the assistant professor level to study what happens at the points where the systems of humans and potentially infectious agents connect. The program supports research that sheds light on the fundamentals that affect the outcomes of these encounters: how colonization, infection, commensalism, and other relationships play out at levels ranging from molecular interactions to systemic ones; PATH is a highly competitive award program that provides $500,000 over a period of five years to study pathogenesis with the intent to give recipients the freedom and flexibility to pursue new avenues of inquiry, stimulating higher-risk research projects that hold potential for significantly advancing understanding of how infectious diseases work and how health is maintained.; Several RFPs that could be relevant to MSPH faculty here (climate and health (both a seed grant and larger grant) and PATH): https://www.bwfund.org/upcoming-deadlines/ ; [brought to our attention by] Allyson Velez, MPP; Senior Director of Corporate & Foundation Relations; Columbia Mailman School of Public Health; amr151@cumc.columbia.edu

Additional Information: Below is a reminder of the new look and feel coming on June 23rd of the RPPRs in the eRA Commons module, along with screen shots. Please see below additional action items you may need to take. [brought to our attention by Stephanie Scott]; eRA Enhancements: Reminder that a New Visual Appearance is Coming June 23 to Research Performance Progress Report (RPPR) Module in eRA Commons; eRA Collaborating for a Transformative Tomorrow; eRA Enhancements: Reminder that a New Visual Appearance is Coming June 23 to Research Performance Progress Report (RPPR) Module in eRA Commons; We would like to remind you that the Research Performance Progress Report (RPPR) Module in eRA Commons is moving to the new visual appearance being adopted by other eRA modules, as a result of a required technology upgrade. The functionality and content will remain the same, except for new unique entity identifier (UEI) fields where applicable and other FORMS-G changes (e.g., updated budget forms); see Actions Required below.; Along with the screen refresh, a revised, updated RPPR Instruction Guide will be issued that builds on the instruction guide issued on May 13 and will reflect new screenshots as well as updated policy guidance on FORMS-G and UEI changes see NOT-OD-22-130 for details.; All screens are being transitioned to the new look. The refreshed screens will be rolled out on Thursday, June 23, 2022. The release will take place with no downtime. The updates to the RPPR screens are designed to enhance the user experience. The new look is accompanied by changes that enhance the security and stability of the module.; Actions Required: See the prior messages appended at the bottom of this message for details on both actions below.; Submit in-progress budget forms by June 22. Budget forms for non-SNAP awards that are started, but not submitted, by June 23 will have to be re-filled out.; Obtain UEI numbers for performance sites listed in Section G.8 Project/Performance Sites, as the DUNS field will be removed and replaced with a UEI field effective June 23.; Highlights of New Changes; The screens will adopt the new standard features being incorporated in eRA modules, such as: Apps menu icon — The apps menu, located in the upper left of the new blue header, shows a dropdown menu of other eRA modules available to the user.

Buttons — If multiple buttons exist in a row, the primary button will be prominent and the secondary ones will either be outlined or have no border, to help highlight the options that are more likely to be used.

Header and Footer — An elegant header and footer take up less space, leaving more real estate for the functionality of the module.; Action items — A three dot ellipsis icon, when clicked, displays a dropdown menu of action items. This icon replaces the action column. See Figure 3.; Enhanced Table Tools — A set of tools enhances the ability to work with table data. See Figure 2.; For an explanation of all the new look and feel features, please see Navigating and Using the UI in eRA Modules in the eRA Commons online help.; New UEI Fields Added; For grant applications due on or after January 25, 2022, applicants must have a unique entity identifier (UEI) at the time of application submission, because the federal government has transitioned away from DUNS numbers. DUNS and UEI fields will co-exist on some grant forms during the transition.; New UEI fields appear anywhere that DUNS numbers previously appeared, and in some cases the DUNS was removed; see Figure 1, Figure 3, and Figure 4; Also see these two articles for more information on UEI numbers:

Unique Entity Identifier Update ; Goodbye DUNS, Hello UEI

(Message below sent Monday, May 26, at 10:06 a.m.); eRA Alert: Performance Sites of Research Performance Progress Report (RPPR) Require UEI Effective June 23; As of April 4, 2022, the unique entity identifier (UEI) replaced the Dun & Bradstreet (DUNS) number as the official identifier required for an organization/institution to apply for and receive federal funding from NIH and other federal agencies. See NIH Guide Notice NOT-OD-21-170. The UEI, a 12-character alpha numeric identifier, is issued as part of the System for Award Management (SAM) registration process.; As communicated in NOT-OD-22-130, the Research Performance Progress Report (RPPR) Module in eRA Commons is moving to the new visual appearance being adopted by other eRA modules, as a result of a required technology upgrade. The refreshed screens will be rolled out on Thursday, June 23, 2022. All screens are being transitioned to the new look. The release includes the addition of the new UEI fields where applicable and required FORMS-G changes, including updated budget forms (see appended message). We would like to inform you that RPPR Section G.8 Project/Performance Sites will no longer have a DUNS number field and will require a UEI instead of a DUNS number. This change will be effective on June 23.; If your organization is currently working on an RPPR with performance sites, please obtain the UEIs of the performance sites. Performance sites that do not have a UEI can obtain one through SAM.gov.; Resources: DUNS to Unique Entity ID (SAM) Transition; Reminder: Unique Entity ID (UEI) Required Starting January 2022

Additional Information: The Maximizing Investigators’ Research Award (MIRA) provides support for the program of research in an investigator’s laboratory that is within the mission of NIGMS. The goal of MIRA is to increase the efficiency and efficacy of NIGMS funding. This FOA allows applications from eligible NIGMS-funded investigators and from New Investigators proposing research within the scientific mission of NIGMS. The FOA also allows renewal applications from all current MIRA grantees (established investigators and those previously funded as early-stage investigators). PD/PIs who are currently Early Stage Investigators (ESIs) should apply through the ESI MIRA FOA and should not apply through this FOA.

Additional Information: NIH Institutional Excellence in Diversity, Equity, Inclusion, and Accessibility (DEIA) Prize Competition; NIH is launching the Institutional Excellence in Diversity, Equity, Inclusion, and Accessibility (DEIA) Prize Competition. This competition is the result of input received from the public in response to a Request for Information (RFI). The Chief Officer for Scientific Workforce Diversity (COSWD) is administering the prize competition in collaboration with the NIH UNITE initiative and 24 institutes and centers across the agency.; The prize competition goals are as follows: To recognize and reward institutions whose biomedical, social, and behavioral science schools, departments, centers, or divisions have identified gaps with respect to diversity, equity, inclusion, and accessibility (DEIA) and have designed, implemented, and evaluated interventions to address these gaps to achieve sustained improvement in DEIA within their faculty, postdoctoral scholars, and student bodies.; To identify effective practices for enhancing DEIA within faculty, postdoctoral scholars, and student bodies that are feasible and can be disseminated for adoption by other institutions.; Eligible institutions will have until September 26, 2023 to submit an entry. There will also be a webinar on May 17, 2023, to address questions about the Prize Competition.; More information is available on the Prize Competition website; Key Dates Prize competition launch: April 4, 2023; Q&A Webinar: May 17, 2023; Deadline to submit an entry: September 26, 2023; Winners announced: December 2023; [brought to our attention by] Lindsey Ann Martin, PhD, Health Scientist Administrator, Program Contact for Implementation Science,

All of Us Research Program Makes Nearly 250,000 Whole Genome Sequences Available to Advance Precision Medicine

Sponsor: All of Us Research Program | NIH

Deadline(s): NA; 04/20/2023 (Released)

Contact: Contact Us | All of Us Research Program | NIH ; https://allofus.nih.gov/about/contact-us

Additional Information: All of Us Research Program Now the Largest, Most Diverse Genomic Dataset of its Kind; Dataset includes nearly a quarter million whole genome sequences; The Researcher Workbench dataset is now the world’s largest, most diverse genomic dataset available for wide use; The National Institutes of Health’s All of Us Research Program has significantly expanded its data to now include nearly a quarter million whole genome sequences for broad research use. About 45% of the data was donated by people who self-identify with a racial or ethnic group that has been historically underrepresented in medical research. The data expansion provides registered researchers access to the world’s largest and most diverse dataset of its kind paving the way to help advance health equity and uncover health care approaches better tailored to people’s genes, lifestyles, and environments.; In total, the expanded dataset provides researchers information from more than 413,450
participants. In addition to the whole genome sequences, this resource also includes data from surveys, electronic health records, physical measurements and Fitbit devices. Fitbit device data will now include information on sleep, in addition to activity, step count and heart rate. Sleep data, when used alongside participants’ electronic health record data, could be useful for studying how sleep patterns affect overall health and disease progression, including for conditions such as heart disease, high blood pressure, diabetes, depression and dementia. [added week of 05/05/2023]: All of Us Research Program Makes Nearly 250,000 Whole Genome Sequences Available to Advance Precision Medicine; All of Us genomic dataset is world's largest and most diverse dataset of its kind, paving the way to advance precision medicine. ; Genomic dataset is the world’s largest, most diverse of its kind, integrated with other robust data; The National Institutes of Health’s All of Us Research Program has significantly expanded its data to now include nearly a quarter million whole genome sequences for broad research use. About 45% of the data was donated by people who self-identify with a racial or ethnic group that has been historically underrepresented in medical research. The data expansion provides registered researchers access to the world’s largest and most diverse dataset of its kind paving the way to help advance health equity and uncover health care approaches better tailored to people’s genes, lifestyles, and environments.; "When All of Us began national enrollment five years ago, we were excited about the promise of how we could advance health research,” said Josh Denny, M.D., M.S., chief executive officer of the All of Us Research Program. “Now, through a partnership with participants, researchers, and diverse communities across the country, we are seeing incredible progress towards powering scientific discoveries that can lead to a healthier future for all of us.”; In total, the expanded dataset provides researchers information from more than 413,450 participants. In addition to the whole genome sequences, this resource also includes data from surveys, electronic health records, physical measurements and Fitbit devices. Fitbit device data will now include information on sleep, in addition to activity, step count and heart rate. Sleep data, when used alongside participants’ electronic health record data, could be useful for studying how sleep patterns affect overall health and disease progression, including for conditions such as heart disease, high blood pressure, diabetes, depression and dementia. ; The program has also released more than 1,000 detailed long-read sequenced genomes. Long-read sequences are a novel data type that have the potential to provide a more complete picture of the genome. Through the program’s secure, cloud-based platform for data analysis, the Researcher Workbench, registered researchers can use these data to study genetic variation and potentially identify genetic variants tied to certain conditions. Access to the Researcher Workbench is available to researchers from eligible organizations after they complete training and other requirements.; “For years, the lack of diversity in genomic datasets has limited our understanding of human health,” said Andrea Ramirez, M.D., M.S., chief data officer of the All of Us Research Program. “By engaging participants from diverse backgrounds and sharing a more complete picture of their lives—through genomic, lifestyle, clinical and social environmental data—All of Us enables researchers to begin to better pinpoint the drivers of disease.”; The program’s expansive dataset also allows researchers to better define important genetic risks for diseases. The whole genome sequence dataset alone includes variation at more than 1 billion locations, which is nearly one-third of the entire human genome. These small genetic variations could offer important clues to develop predictive markers for disease risk or explain differences in the effectiveness of certain drugs for different people.; The genomic data are also used to develop What Participants Receive | Join All of Us for participants. So far, more than 25,000 participants have requested to receive one or more of these reports detailing whether they have an increased risk for specific health conditions or how their body might process certain medications. These health-related DNA results are part of the program’s commitment to share information and return value to participants, while also making their data broadly available for research use.; More than 5,000 researchers have registered to use the All of Us Research Workbench. Registered researchers have access to an expanded set of tools to use in working with available data types. Additionally, Featured Workspaces - Table of Contents – User Support (researchallofus.org) are available to provide researchers examples of ways to segment and analyze the data, which can be used to kickstart or enhance their work.; All of Us aims to ultimately make data available from at least 1 million research participants across the U.S. and to engage more researchers over time. For more information on anticipated future data releases, Data Sources – All of Us Research Hub (researchallofus.org); Learn more about becoming involved in this historic effort to advance medical breakthroughs and precision medicine at Data Sources – All of Us Research Hub (researchallofus.org). Go to ResearchAllofUs.org to register to use the All of Us dataset.; Available data types include; More than 413,350 survey responses, More than 337,500 physical measurements, More than 312,900 genotyping arrays, More than 287,000 electronic health records (EHRs), More than 245,350 whole genome sequences, More than 15,600 Fitbit records, and More than 1,000 long-read whole genome sequences To learn more about the program, please go to joinallofus.org/nyc. Additional Information: All of Us Seeks Proposals to Support Future Participant ExperienceNew Research Opportunity Announcement Details Research and Technology Needs for New Award to Support the Program’s Future Participant Experience; New Research Opportunity Announcement Details Research and Technology Needs for New Award to Support the Program’s Future Participant Experience; The National Institutes of Health’s All of Us Research Program has released a new funding opportunity seeking technology and research services partners to help develop the program’s future participant experience. This effort will require strong expertise in designing engaging and accessible digital platforms, implementing research protocols that are carried out through different channels, and supporting a range of other activities to facilitate participants’ involvement in research.; The scope of work includes two core components. A research technology systems core will focus on developing a secure platform that is capable of facilitating nationwide participant involvement, including in their use of digital health technologies, connection of election health records, and access to returned personal health information. The platform will also be used to deploy surveys, and manage robust communications, marketing, and analytics support for program staff and partners.; A program management and delivery core will develop refined consent and data collection methods and tools, and multi-language services to support participants in at least three or more languages to go beyond English and Spanish.
Additionally, this core will evaluate potential options to provide at-home and mobile technology to ensure more participants can fully participate in the program. The selected offerors will also be expected to transition the program’s current participant and study staff services – supported by multiple awards, including the Participant Technology Systems Center | All of Us Research Program | NIH and Participant Center | All of Us Research Program | NIH – to this scope of work during the base period. Proposals should also demonstrate capabilities and expertise to support cloud systems security and privacy implementation and compliance with National Institute of Standards and Technology (NIST) standards to a minimum Federal Information Security Management Act (FISMA) Moderate requirement. All partners in the All of Us Research Program are required to adhere to the policies and procedures to maintain compliance with the Precision Medicine Initiative: Data Security Policy Principles and Framework Overview | All of Us Research Program | NIH; Initial white papers are due March 20, 2023 at 3 p.m. ET. Anyone interested in learning more about this opportunity are encouraged to join a pre-submission Webinar (Registration - Zoom zoomgov.com) on February 2, 2023 at 2 p.m. ET. Registration is required to attend the webinar.

Additional Information: As a reminder, effective January 25, 2022, PIs and other senior/key personnel must electronically sign the NIH Other Support form to certify the accuracy of the information provided, and adhere to Columbia University’s Electronic Signature Policy. A typed name is not an electronic signature and is not acceptable. Certification cannot be delegated to administrators or other staff. NIH will not accept wet signatures, or pictures of wet signatures. The University recommends using DocuSign to electronically sign the Other Support forms. DocuSign is cloud-based and automatically retains the originally signed documents. Both faculty and administrators can use DocuSign. CUIT is in the process of creating DocuSign accounts for PIs who have current active or pending NIH grants. Administrators who support faculty in creating and organizing Other Support forms and wish to have access to DocuSign will need to request an account. Please complete this Qualtrics form as soon as possible in order for CUIT to create an account. We only need the person’s name and UNI, and one person can complete forms for multiple individuals.; DocuSign training will be offered next week by CUIT and SPA, and will be recorded if you are unable to attend. A quick desktop reference guide and instructional video resources will also be forthcoming. Please register for the trainings by using a Columbia-affiliated email address here: Friday, January 21st, 2 - 3 pm ; [brought to our attention by] Stephanie F. Administrators who assist researchers with NIH Other Support forms can use DocuSign to obtain electronic signatures from researchers. As a reminder, a typed name is not an electronic signature and is not acceptable. Certification cannot be delegated to administrators or other staff. NIH will not accept wet signatures, or pictures of wet signatures. Access to DocuSign has already been given to the following individuals: PIs with active NIH grants; Administrators who requested access, using our DocuSign Request Form; Researchers, who are not NIH-funded PIs (i.e., other senior/key personnel), who requested access using our DocuSign Request Form; If you are an administrator or other senior/key personnel who has not yet requested DocuSign and needs it for the purposes of NIH Other Support only, please use the DocuSign Request Form. Newly awarded PIs without prior NIH funding, and PIs transferring to Columbia from another institution will need to request access using the request form; In order to use DocuSign you will need to follow the login steps outlined in the user guides below: DocuSign User Guide for Researchers; Other training materials: Slide deck; DocuSign Training Video (1/19/2022); DocuSign Training Video (repeat session, 1/21/2022); If you have any technical difficulties accessing DocuSign, please email DocuSign-Support@columbia.edu; For questions concerning the NIH requirements for electronic signature of Other Support, email Stephanie Scott at sf2110@cumc.columbia.edu; For more information about the NIH disclosure requirements, including guidance documents and FAQs, see NIH Researcher Disclosure Requirements: Other Support, Biosketches, and Foreign Components; Stephanie F. Scott, MS, CRA; Director of Policy and Research Development; Columbia | Research; Sponsored Projects Administration; Columbia University & Columbia University Irving Medical Center; Email: stephanie.scott@columbia.edu; Website: https://spa.columbia.edu/
Additional Information: I wanted to point you to new FAQs and guidance related to requesting NIH Other Support forms from subrecipients and other external collaborators. Please see the Columbia FAQs: NIH Other Support & Biosketches, specifically the section on Subawards. Subawards FAQ#4 includes suggested language you can use when requesting Other Support forms from subrecipients and external collaborators.; In general, both domestic and foreign subrecipients are subject to the same NIH Other Support disclosure requirements as we are. Subrecipients must electronically sign their Other Support forms, prior to their inclusion in the flattened PDF, certifying that the information is accurate and complete, and they must also include supporting documentation, as applicable. However, SPA will accept any form of electronic signature method that is in alignment the subrecipient's institutional practices to meet the NIH requirements. They do not have to use DocuSign, but they must use an electronic signature. Wet signatures, typed signatures, and pictures of signatures will not be accepted.; Please read the FAQs for more details. Feel free to reach out to your SPA Project Officer and myself with any questions.; Stephanie F. Scott, MS, CRA; Director of Policy and Research Development; Columbia | Research; Sponsored Projects Administration; Email: stephanie.scott@columbia.edu ; Website: https://spa.columbia.edu/ ; Important Are you ready for the new NIH Biosketch and Other Support requirements, effective January 25, 2022? For resources and FAQs to assist you, please see NIH Researcher Disclosure Requirements.
Additional Information: SPA made minor revisions to our subaward forms. Please discontinue using prior versions of these forms. We will not ask you to change forms if you recently used previous versions, however, use the latest forms going forward; Note that our forms for outbound subawards (when Columbia issues subawards as a pass-through entity) and inbound subawards (when Columbia receives subawards as a subrecipient) are located in both our Subawards webpages, and our Internal Forms webpage. SUMMARY OF CHANGES: PROPOSALS CONTAINING OUTBOUND SUBAWARDS Updated Subaward Face Page (rev July 11, 2022); Includes formatting changes; Removes the DUNS numbers, which were replaced with the Unique Entity Identification #s (UEIs). DUNS numbers are no longer active.; Questions about including subawards in proposals should be directed to your SPA Project Officer. REQUEST FOR OUTBOUND SUBAWARDS (ROS) AND SUBAWARD ISSUANCE: As a reminder, use the Request for Outbound Subawards (ROS) form, located at Subawards – Award Management, which contains a User Guide and instructional video.; Please ensure your subrecipients are completing the latest version of Attachment 3B (page 1) published by the Federal Demonstration Partnership (FDP). The latest version contains important data elements used for required reporting done by our office.; Questions about the ROS form and Attachment 3B for outbound subawards should be directed to the appropriate subawards team: Morningside: subawards-ms@columbia.edu; CUIMC: subawards-cuimc@columbia.edu; INBOUND SUBAWARDS: Updated Inbound Subaward Face Page (rev July 11, 2022); Includes formatting changes; Removes the DUNS numbers, which were replaced with the Unique Entity Identification #s (UEIs). DUNS numbers are no longer active.; Questions about Inbound Subaward requirements should be directed to your SPA Project Officer. ATTACHMENT 3B FOR INBOUND SUBAWARDS ISSUED TO COLUMBIA: New Attachment 3B templates available for both Morningside and CUIMC; Clarification of the Place of Performance. The address provided in the Place of Performance field must be where the actual work takes place as confirmed by the PI. The Congressional District should be based on the Place of Performance. Instructions are provided in the new templates, in the Place of Performance field, and should be deleted and replaced with the Place of Performance. They state: "READ THESE INSTRUCTIONS FIRST, DELETE, THEN COMPLETE THIS SECTION WITH THE ADDRESS WHERE THE ACTUAL WORK TAKES PLACE AS CONFIRMED BY PI. The Congressional District BELOW is based on the address where the work takes place: Morningside: NY-010; Medical Center: NY-013; Manhattanville: NY-013; Lamont-Doherty and Nevis Labs: NY-017. Additional Information: Opportunity related to NIH Other Support; I am writing to inform you that NIH recently developed a way for you to create your Other Support forms using SciENcv. It is not yet available to the research community. However, they are looking for volunteers to work directly with them to test it out. They want faculty and research administrators, but they especially want faculty from different scientific disciplines and career stages. This is a great opportunity for you to directly provide them with feedback. I do not yet know what kind of functionality they built in, but I do know the purpose of SciENcv is to streamline the creation of these forms and reduce burden. I also know that researchers will have the ability to electronically sign their Other Support forms in SciENcv (rather than use DocuSign); Here are the details: When: Between April 4-15 (projected), approximately 45 minute sessions; Who: Faculty and Research Administrators, with priority to Faculty from different disciplines, career stages; What: Test the new SciENcv interface and NIH Other Support forms, and provide feedback directly to the developers and NIH staff; Email your interest to me, and I will share your contact information with the person coordinating these efforts who is in direct contact with the SciENcv team. They will reach out directly to you to schedule a testing session.; If you are interested but not able to participate during the testing window, your name will be added to the list for future opportunities. This is not the first and only time we will be able to test SciENcv as they make improvements to the system and further develop it.; I learned of this opportunity through the Federal Demonstration Partnership (FDP), whose mission is to identify ways to reduce administrative burden for researchers receiving federal funding. Columbia is a member and very active in the FDP, and I am on the FDP Executive Committee; Thank you.; [brought to our attention by]: Stephanie F. Additional Information: NIH recently released new clarifications for the Other Support format pages and Biographical Sketches. Key clarifications include:
Signatures are not required on the Other Support format pages until January 25, 2022, regardless of whether you use the old or new formats.
Completed support from the last three years is no longer required in Other Support. Only include active and pending projects. Awardees must report significant changes in Other Support in RPPRs, such as a change in status of previously reported current or pending projects, or access to a new resource/in-kind contribution.
Only unique, high-value materials and data received within the past three years, that are still in use, must be included as in-kind contributions in Other Support.
Only current positions and scientific appointments are required in the Biosketch. Applicants may choose to include past appointments that they wish to highlight.
Consulting agreements must be included in Other Support only when the PD/PI or other senior/key personnel will be conducting research as part of the consulting activities. Non-research consulting activities are not Other Support. Include estimates for the amount paid, rather than time and effort reflected in calendar months, for consulting that is disclosed in Other Support.

Rather than simply updating a previously submitted Other Support form, we strongly recommend that you create a new form from scratch, to ensure that you are able to implement all changes.

To assist you further, we created additional FAQs based on questions collected from researchers and administrators at Columbia University. They are meant to supplement NIH’s FAQs. In addition, we will be hosting monthly webinars to walk you through the forms. Stay tuned for a separate communication with the webinar schedule.

This includes titled academic, professional, or institutional appointments whether or not remuneration is received, and whether full-time, part-time, or voluntary (including adjunct, visiting, or honorary).”; This is critical. The senior/key personnel, and mentors for training grants, have to include all positions and appointments, not just select ones, or ones relevant to the proposal. It’s not just the heading of Section B that changed, it’s the instructions to Section B.; The changes as outlined in the announcement are as follows:

Additional Information: On Behalf of CUIMC Executive Leadership - Dean Armstrong, MD; Subject: New Physician-Scientist Pathway Initiative; Sent: Wednesday, December 21, 2022 3:59 PM; "I want to discuss a subject that will be a central focus for VP&S in 2023 and beyond: our global leadership in advancing biomedical research and maximizing its impact on human health. I am very pleased to be able to announce today the first major initiative in this long-term effort, a new physician-scientist pathway program supported by another transformative gift from Roy and Diana Vagelos, our indispensable benefactors."

"The Vagelos College of Physicians and Surgeons already attracts exceptionally talented graduate students, physicians in training, and early-career physician-scientists seeking the best environment for launching careers that will change medicine through scientific discovery. Extraordinary work in recent years on the medical school curriculum and in clinical departments reflects our faculty’s commitment to these students, trainees, and early career faculty. Examples of this existing institutional commitment are the Moynihan Clinical Research Fellowship for psychiatry residents exploring clinical applications of neuroscience research; the Irving Institute's TRANSFORM program, offering career awards, resources, and peer programs for physician-scientists; the Allan Gordon Scholars Fund, providing critical support for early-stage investigators in the Department of Neurology; the Young Faculty Mentoring Program offering mentorship and career guidance for young investigators in the Department of Medicine; and many other initiatives of this type across the medical school."

Additional Information: COVID-19 Updates for the Research Community: January 3, 2022; Dear Members of the Research Community, We write to highlight key COVID-19 updates for the research community: First, as stated in the Provost’s (Update on the Start of the Spring Semester) December 22 message, faculty, researchers, staff, and students involved in research, administration and all other non-instructional activities should work remotely, if feasible, during the first two weeks of January. All in-person, indoor gatherings of any kind are prohibited during the first two weeks of January.; Second, research is not being paused or suspended at this time. However, to the extent feasible, research activities, including human subjects research, should be conducted virtually. Individual units and principal investigators may determine which team members are required to be in person versus remote. They should also take into account the needs and safety of research participants and study-specific requirements. As always when making such determinations, a precautionary approach is warranted and strongly recommended.; Third, the Research page of the University’s COVID-19 Resource Guide contains updated information specific to the research community. This page includes a new FAQ for principal investigators regarding steps to consider in the event that a team member tests positive for COVID-19.; Finally, below are important reminders: [1] If you are eligible, get a vaccine booster as soon as possible. Upload documentation no later than January 31, 2022 (details on upload to follow); [2] Wear a properly-fitting face covering for all indoor activity on campus and outdoors in large gatherings.; [3] Comply with University testing requirements, including new recommendations as of December 29, 2021. Those who are returning to campus will please note that: all faculty and staff that have traveled, have been away for a period of time, or have participated in social events and gatherings are strongly recommended to get a PCR test from a local testing site 48 hours prior to returning to University facilities. There is no need to provide proof of this test, unless it is positive.; [4] All visitors, including those who enter any campus facility for any period of time, must be vaccinated and show proof of vaccination as part of visitor attestation. This vaccination policy does not apply to individuals accessing a facility for research screening or research participation.; [5] For in-person human subject procedures, research participants must comply with these guidelines and complete an attestation before entering campus spaces. The attestation is available in English and Spanish. As noted above, the visitor vaccine requirement is not applicable to research participants.; [6] If you have COVID-19 symptoms or test positive for COVID-19, you must stay home and isolate as directed by your provider or contact tracing outreach. If you test positive, irrespective of location of the testing, please notify covidtesttrace@columbia.edu.; [7] Close contacts who are fully vaccinated do not have to quarantine and can continue to work in-person, but should test between 5-7 days of exposure/notification.; [8] The Research Ramp-up Ambassadors continue to be a resource for individuals with concerns about on-campus research activities. ;If you have questions, please feel free to send them...
As always, we thank you for your continued care and commitment to safety and to our research enterprise, and we look forward to a productive 2022.

Sincerely,

Jeannette M. Wing

Additional Information: Dear fellow members of the Columbia community, We are writing to provide updates on our December messages regarding Columbia University COVID-19 policies and procedures. We are carefully monitoring the COVID-19 pandemic status in the New York City metro area and among our affiliates.; While Columbia is doing its own asymptomatic testing on campus, we also urge you to report any outside positive test results you do receive to covidtesttrace@columbia.edu so that we have an accurate picture of COVID-19 positive cases amongst our affiliates and can provide you with information on available resources. As you are aware, the Omicron variant has been shown to be more transmissible than prior virus variants. However, there are reassuring data suggesting that this variant causes less severe illness and that our vaccines, and particularly once boosted, also protect against symptomatic and severe COVID-19.; We have three important updates to share with you: Changes in isolation and quarantine guidelines: New York State, acting on guidance from the CDC, has modified isolation and quarantine as follows.; Isolation: All individuals who test positive for COVID-19 can end their isolation after 5 days if they are asymptomatic. Day 0 is considered the first day of symptom onset and/or the day of a positive test result.; Quarantine: Individuals who are fully vaccinated and have received booster dose, do not need to quarantine. Such individuals are recommended to get tested on day 5-7 after last exposure.; Individuals who are not vaccinated or not fully vaccinated or are eligible for a booster but have not yet received one should quarantine for 5 days – where day 0 is the last day of exposure – provided symptoms do not appear. Such individuals are recommended to get tested on day 5-7.; Full details can be found on the New York State Department of Health website.; Changes in gathering/events and dining policies: In addition to the policies that were announced on December 20 and December 22, Columbia-related non-academic gatherings on and off campus are prohibited until the end of January.; In all dining halls, only grab-and-go food will be available for the first week of the undergraduate return beginning January 18th.; All affiliates are strongly urged to avoid indoor social gatherings wherever they are located, unless aware of vaccination and testing status of all attendees. Masking in these locations is also strongly recommended as well as in crowded outdoor social gatherings.; Masking indoors at Columbia will continue through March 31, and we urge wearing of masks indoors in all public settings as well as in crowded settings when outdoors.; Columbia athletic events will permit no fans for the first two weeks of January.; Uploading vaccine and booster information: Next week, we will provide you with the links to be able to upload your booster information. New hires seeking to upload any vaccine (not booster) information may do so on our ReopenCU website.; Students can currently upload their vaccine and booster information. For CUIMC students go here. For all other students, go here.; Sincerely,

Additional Information: Related Announcements: OTA-22-006 - NIH All of Us Engagement, Communications, and Enrollment Partners Other Transactions (OT) Research Opportunity Announcement (ROA); The All of Us Research Program is a historic effort to gather data from at least 1 million people, with the goal of accelerating health research and medical breakthroughs, and enabling individualized prevention, treatment, and care. The program is creating a national research resource to inform thousands of studies, covering a wide variety of health conditions. Researchers will use data from the program to learn more about how individual differences in lifestyle, environment, and biological makeup can influence health and disease. The purpose of this announcement is to fund organizations who can help All of Us build its cohort of volunteers who reflect the rich diversity of the United States and are actively engaged as partners. These funded organizations will help design and implement strategies to raise awareness of the program through community and health care provider organizations, drive increased enrollment of participants, foster regular communication with participants, and engage the research community to use the data being gathered.

Additional Information: Many different factors—biological, social, and environmental--affect human health. It is also increasingly recognized that interactions between these factors play a significant role in prevention, pathophysiology, and management of human disease. Sex/gender differences, being a member of a sexual and/or gender minority group, and race/ethnicity are among those factors with a significant impact on human health and disease. However, consideration of these factors in research projects remains limited.

University systems are currently being updated to accommodate the new rates. If you have any questions, please reach out to Fabrizio Carucci at fc2586@columbia.edu or Kristi Bazata at klv2102@columbia.edu or your project officer in SPA.; Columbia | Research; Office of the Executive Vice President for Research.

https://research.columbia.edu/institutional-information

However, the actual rate agreement itself is not available yet. We are allowed, though, to use these new rates when preparing proposal budgets. The rate agreement itself will not be available for a few weeks.

Therefore, you need to rely on this memo, and speak with a SPA Project Officer if you have specific questions about how to use the new rates for proposal budgets.

Note: The F&A rate applied to an award is dependent on the award issue date of the Notice of Award (NOA), or the date when a contract or inbound subaward is fully executed. For a full explanation of how our F&A rates are to be applied, including definitions of “on-campus”, “modified off-campus”, and “off-campus”, see the Application of Facilities and Administrative Cost Rate policy. Different rates than those listed above may apply to projects not considered to be research activities. Please contact your SPA Project Officer to verify the nature of the work to be undertaken and the applicable rate. The rate agreement is available on the SPA website on the Institutional Information page. Any questions regarding the new rate agreement should be directed to AskRPIC@columbia.edu.

Are you ready for the new NIH Biosketch and Other Support requirements, effective January 25, 2022? For resources and FAQs to assist you, please see NIH Researcher Disclosure Requirements

Additional Information: Hello, all. With the standard due date coming up for NIH Research Career Development awards (K-awards), due Monday, February 14th (moved from the 12th since that falls on a weekend), our office has received a lot of questions about the requirements for Other Support forms for mentors and co-mentors, given the new NIH Other Support requirements that took effect January 25, 2022.:

The instructions for Current & Pending Support (which is what it is called for mentors in K-awards, as opposed to Other Support) remain unchanged, with the exception of the change from ‘annual direct costs’ to ‘total costs’, and the addition of the electronic signature.:

There is still a 3-page limit for each mentor, and it is limited to the mentor’s/co-mentor’s current and pending research support relevant to the candidate’s research plan. In other words, the mentor includes selected projects and in-kind contributions in their Current & Pending Support that are relevant to the candidate’s research plan. In addition, “percent effort/person months” and “overlap” should not be included. See page 61 of the new FORMS-G instructions for K-awards other Support format pages.

We recommend the use of DocuSign to meet NIH’s electronic signature requirement. User guides and training videos on the use of DocuSign are on our website here. NIH will request full Other Support forms, to include all resources made available to a researcher in support of and/or related to all of their research endeavors, during Just-in-Time (JIT), upon request. Should you have any questions, please reach out to your SPA Project Officer.

Additional Information: The purpose of this Notice of Special Interest (NOSI) is to highlight NIAID’s interest in supporting research aimed at fostering collaborations between researchers throughout the NIAID/Radiation and Nuclear Countermeasures Program (RNCP)-funded grant and cooperative agreement portfolio (e.g., U01, U19, R21, R01, P01). The NIAID/RNCP has been tasked with developing safe and effective medical countermeasures (MCMs) and biodosimetry tools for civilians that can be used at least 24 hours post-exposure in a radiological or nuclear public health emergency. The multidisciplinary nature of radiation research lends itself to the establishment of formal partnerships across projects with similar goals, which enables collaborating research groups to achieve outcomes that would likely be impossible without the expertise, models, and facilities available at other institutions. The goal of NOSI is to foster collaborations that will allow awardees to develop data that can be leveraged for new funding that will enhance the state-of-the-science.

Additional Information: NIH Director’s Early Independence Awards (DP5); Limited Submission; NIH Director’s Early Independence Awards (DP5); Internal Proposal due at 9:00 a.m. on Wednesday, May 31, 2023; Internal Application and Instructions – Internal Applications must be completed on our InfoReady Review site at: https://columbia.infoready4.com/#competitionDetail/1901459; Please click the “Columbia University Login” button to view instructions and begin your application.; Funding: Up to $250k in direct costs per year, plus applicable Facilities and Administrative (F&A) costs, for five years.; What: The NIH Director’s Early Independence Award supports exceptional investigators who wish to pursue independent research essentially after completion of their terminal doctoral/research degree or end of post-graduate clinical training, thereby forgoing the traditional post-doctoral training period and accelerating their entry into an independent research career. For the program to support the best possible researchers and research, applications are sought which reflect the full diversity of the research workforce. Individuals from diverse backgrounds and from the full spectrum of eligible institutions in all geographic locations are strongly encouraged to apply to this Funding Opportunity Announcement. In addition, applications in all topics relevant to the broad mission of NIH are welcome, including, but not limited to, topics in the behavioral, social, biomedical, applied, and formal sciences and topics that may involve basic, translational, or clinical research. The NIH Director’s Early Independence Award is a component of the High-Risk, High-Reward Research program of the NIH Common Fund.; Important: This is not a postdoctoral program. Applicants must move into an independent faculty position if awarded. If the Early Independence investigator is staying at the same institution at which they trained, the institution must indicate how independence from degree/fellowship mentors will be established and maintained.; Individuals must commit at least 9.6
person-months each year (i.e., 80% effort of a 12-month appointment) during the first two years of the project period to research supported by the Early Independence Award. In the final three years of the project period, awardees may reduce effort toward the Early Independence Award project, but the total effort towards independent research in general must remain at least 9.6 person-months each year (i.e., 80% effort of a 12-month appointment). To be eligible, investigators, at the time of application, must have received their most recent doctoral degree or completed clinical training within the previous fifteen months or expect to do so within the following twelve months. To be consistent with the NIH Definition of Early Stage Investigator (ESI) Policies | grants.nih.gov; eligible clinical training includes clinical residency and clinical fellowship. For full eligibility requirements, see Section III. Eligibility Information in the RFA; Who: The PD/PI must have received their terminal doctoral degree, or completed their clinical training between June 1, 2022, and September 30, 2024. The end of post-graduate clinical training includes residency and fellowship periods. The PD/PI must not have served as a post-doctoral fellow for more than 12 months following a previous, non-terminal doctoral degree before June 1, 2022. Those holding Assistant Professor appointments are not eligible.; When: Internal Proposal due May 31, 2023 (9:00 a.m.); Letter of Intent due August 4, 2023; Full Proposal due September 6, 2023; How: To apply, please visit the internal application and instructions on our InfoReady Review site at: https://columbia.infoready4.com/#competitionDetail/1901459; RFA: https://grants.nih.gov/grants/guide/rfa-files/RFA-RM-23-007.html; Questions: Greg Culler and Casey Rollins at limitedsubmissions@columbia.edu; Research Initiatives; Office of the Executive Vice President for Research; Columbia University in the City of New York; To view current limited submission programs please visit: https://columbia.infoready4.com/#limitedsubmissions; COLUMBIA | RESEARCH

The award will provide four-year funds of $300,000.; Application Submission Deadline: Monday, May 8th, 2023, 11:59 pm EST. You can apply through the InfoReady web portal. https://columbia.infoready4.com/#competitionDetail/1900531; Please contact Dr. Sadiqa Quadri with any questions on the program at skq1@cumc.columbia.edu; Best, wishes, Sadiqa; Pew-Stewart Scholars for Cancer Research; The Pew-Stewart Scholars for Cancer Research supports assistant professors of outstanding promise in science relevant to the advancement of a cure for cancer. The award provides $300,000 in flexible support—$75,000 per year for a four-year period. For the 2024 award, one nomination will be invited from each of the participating institutions listed at the bottom of this page.; In line with The Alexander and Margaret Stewart Trust’s mission to invest in innovative, cutting-edge cancer research that may accelerate and advance progress toward a cure for cancer, applications are invited from nominees conducting cancer research. This program is distinct from the Pew Scholars Program, and it follows a different, but parallel set of guidelines and procedures for nominating an applicant whose research is related to cancer.

The Office of Disease Prevention and participating NIH ICOs are issuing this R01 to solicit applications to address barriers and facilitators that impede the use or uptake of cancer screening and preventive services in populations that experience health disparities. The causes of these health disparities are multifactorial, including access to healthcare, screening uptake, prevalence of inherited pathogenic mutations associated with cancer risk factors, among others. Novel interventions for improving preventive, screening behaviors, or interventions that test strategies for disseminating or implementing interventions with known effectiveness, are warranted to improve cancer outcomes in populations that experience health disparities. Interventions should address barriers and facilitators at two or more of the following levels: patient, clinician, health care setting, and neighborhood/community.

Policy and Regulation on ClinicalTrials.gov Registration and Reporting | grants.nih.gov

Additional Information: Last week, the NIH implemented new system validations for Research Performance Progress Reports (RPPR) for clinical trial registration and results reporting. RPPRs that have associated clinical trials that are non-compliant with these requirements will receive errors preventing submission of the RPPR. See NOT-OD-22-008 for more details.; As a reminder, failure to register or report results data for an Applicable Clinical Trial (ACT) as per FDAAA 801 and the Final Rule or the NIH Policy on the Dissemination of NIH-Funded Clinical Trial Information can result in immediate suspension or termination of funding, monetary civil penalties of up to $10,000 per day of non-compliance, criminal or civil prosecution, and/or a permanent notice of non-compliance publicly posted on the ClinicalTrials.gov record for a study.; Of note, the FDA issued its first Notice of Noncompliance to an individual investigator conducting a trial sponsored by an academic institution. The Principal Investigator (PI) failed to submit required results data to ClinicalTrials.gov. As a result of this noncompliance, the ClinicalTrials.gov record for the study will be permanently marked with and searchable by the "FDAAA 801 Violations" field, even though results were posted a day after the Notice was issued.; The requirements for registration and results reporting are as follows: Applicable studies must be registered no later than 21 days after enrollment of the 1st participant (i.e., date of when the 1st participant signed a study consent form); Results information for applicable studies must be submitted to ClinicalTrials.gov no later than one year after primary completion date (with limited exceptions) for the primary outcome measure, and one year after the study completion date for all other outcome measures, including safety data.; If you require assistance with ClinicalTrials.gov registration or results reporting, please contact the University’s system administrators at ClinicalTrialsGov@cumc.columbia.edu. Additional Information: Please see below article from today’s NIH Extramural News on new NIH administrative supplements to support diversity mentorship. You can also read the article here if you’re having trouble seeing it below. [brought to our attention by Stephanie Scott]; NIH Extramural Nexus – 2021; Posted: Wednesday, February 9, 2022 by Marie A. Bernard; Subject: New NIH Administrative Supplements Available to Support Diversity Mentorship; Marie A. Bernard, M.D., NIH Chief Officer for Scientific Workforce Diversity; I am pleased to announce the availability of a new NIH administrative supplement that recognizes the crucial role outstanding mentors play in fostering future leaders in the biomedical research enterprise.; Qualified investigators can now submit proposals in response to the Chief Officer for Scientific Workforce Diversity (COSWD)-led xxx, Notice of Special Interest (NSI) NOT-OD-22-057: Administrative Supplements to Recognize Excellence in Diversity, Equity, Inclusion, and Accessibility (DEIA) Mentorship. Proposals are due by April 7, 2022.; Mentorship is a critical part of recruiting and retaining an inclusive scientific workforce. Evidence suggests mentorship helps foster scientific identity and career progression in science, technology, engineering, mathematics, and medicine (STEMM) disciplines. For example, research shows that grant-writing mentorship for early-career biomedical investigators from underrepresented groups can foster increased publication productivity, a key contributor to scientific career advancement.; Based on this evidence, one goal of my office is to support and amplify the impact of programs that develop scientific talent through training and mentorship. Thus, this new NSI is part of our commitment to enhancing mentorship within NIH-supported research, with an emphasis on scientists from underrepresented groups.; The participating NIH Institutes and Centers will supplement the existing awards of scientists who have demonstrated a commitment to exceptional training and mentorship, especially to individuals from groups identified as underrepresented in the biomedical sciences.; Supplements are available for various grant types, including career development, training, cooperative, and Research Project Grants (R01). They will provide up to $250,000 in direct costs, not to exceed the direct costs of the parent award. Investigators may use the funds to perform additional research within the parent grant’s scope, develop curricula or training activities to strengthen mentor training, or help foster the research career development of additional students, post-doctorates, or other trainees; The NIH has an array of mentorship initiatives and resources, and I am excited about this addition to the agency’s offerings. I encourage all eligible investigators to take advantage of this opportunity to be recognized for outstanding mentoring, and for promoting inclusive excellence.

Additional Information: The National Institute of Diabetes and Digestive and Kidney Diseases (NIDDK) announces a program that provides NIDDK-supported K01, K08, K23, and K25 recipients the opportunity to apply for Small Grant (R03) support during the latter years of the award period of their K award. Through the use of this mechanism, the NIDDK is seeking to enhance the capability of its K01, K08, K23, and K25 award recipients to conduct research as they complete their transition to fully independent investigator status. The R03 grant mechanism supports different types of projects, including pilot and feasibility studies; secondary analysis of existing data; small, self-contained research projects; development of research methodology; and development of new research technology. The R03 is, therefore, intended to support research projects that can be carried out in a short period of time with limited resources and that may provide preliminary data to support a subsequent R01, or equivalent, application.

Additional Information: All of Us Research Program; The Future of Health Begins With You; Now Available: All of Us Research Program Expands Dataset to Fuel New Discoveries; The National Institutes of Health’s All of Us Research Program has announced a significant increase in the COVID-19 data available in its precision medicine database, adding survey responses from more than 37,000 additional participants, and virus-related diagnosis and treatment data from the nearly 215,000 participant electronic health records (EHRs) that are currently available. The program has also expanded its collection of wearable data to now include 11,670 paired participant Fitbit records, a 42% increase from its last update, making this one of the largest publicly-available sets of digital health technology data available.; Researchers interested in exploring the data and conducting analyses can apply for access after their institutions have signed a data use agreement with the program. At this time, any U.S.-based academic, nonprofit, or health care organization can enter into a data use agreement with the program.; The program anticipates releasing the first set of genomic data in the next refresh, anticipated this winter.

Additional Information: The NIH Office of Strategic Coordination (Common Fund - https://commonfund.nih.gov/) has generated many valuable and widely available datasets. The Common Fund Data Ecosystem is helping to ensure that all Common Fund (CF) data are Findable, Accessible, Interoperable, and Reusable (FAIR). The purpose of this Notice of Funding Opportunity (NOFO) is to announce the availability of funds for projects that involve collaboration with multiple CF Data Coordinating Centers (DCCs) to combine discovery and/or translational approaches with work that will enhance reusability of Common Fund data and contribute knowledge to the Common Fund Data Ecosystem. Clinical trials will not be accepted through this NOFO. A clinical trial planning component is allowable, provided it is appropriate and rigorously developed.

NIH-Wide Strategic Plan for Fiscal Years (FYs) 2021-2025 is now available

Extramural Nexus Framework of three key objectives of the NIH 2021-2025 NIH-Wide Strategic Plan, Archival 02.18.2020

Sponsor: NIH
Deadline(s): 07/30/2021 (2021-2025 plan; Release Date)
Contact: ExtramuralNexus@mail.nih.gov

Additional Information: NIH-Wide Strategic Plan for FY 2021-2025 Now Available; We are pleased to announce that the NIH-Wide Strategic Plan for Fiscal Years (FYs) 2021-2025 is now available. This updated plan articulates NIH’s highest priorities over the next 5 years, outlining our vision for the future direction, capacity, and stewardship of biomedical and behavioral research.; The plan is organized around a framework of three key objectives: [1] Advancing Biomedical and Behavioral Sciences; [2] Developing, Maintaining, and Renewing Scientific Research Capacity; [3] Exemplifying and Promoting the Highest Level of Scientific Integrity, Public Accountability, and Social Responsibility in the Conduct of Science.; The plan weaves five cross-cutting themes across these objectives, centered around minority health and health disparities, women’s health, public health challenges across the lifespan, collaborative science, and data science. The plan also mentions several achievements made during the previous FY 2016-2020 plan, but please recognize that this plan is not meant to describe everytthing NIH does.; As Dr. Francis Collins, the NIH Director, notes in the opening statement, “NIH will [invest] efficiently and effectively in a wide range of basic, translational, clinical, and applied research, while at the same time supporting the workforce and infrastructure required for a sustainable research enterprise. As outlined in this Strategic Plan, this approach will enable NIH to build a solid foundation of fundamental knowledge. about living systems that will serve to accelerate research aimed at addressing our most pressing health needs.” We appreciate members from the research community, professional societies, advocacy groups, and the public who worked with us and provided feedback throughout the process to develop this plan.

Additional Information: Please see announcement from NSF below regarding important Research.gov enhancements, as well as NSF Public Access Repository (NSF-PAR) enhancements that took effect today. As a reminder, FastLane will no longer be an option for proposal preparation and submission beginning January 2023. Questions concerning NSF policies should be directed to your SPA Project Officer. [brought to our attention by Stephanie Scott] New Research.gov Proposal Preparation Functionality and NSF-PAR Enhancements; Dear Colleague: We are excited to share the latest Research.gov proposal preparation functionality updates, together with information about NSF Public Access Repository (NSF-PAR) enhancements; Beginning in January 2023, all new proposals must be prepared and submitted in Research.gov or Grants.gov. FastLane will no longer be a preparation and submission option. The National Science Foundation strongly urges proposers to prepare and submit all eligible proposals in Research.gov now, to support a smooth transition from FastLane proposal preparation and submission to Research.gov in January 2023.

New Research.gov Proposal Preparation Functionality Available May 2nd; New Postdoctoral Fellowship Proposal Type; The Postdoctoral Fellowship proposal type is available in Research.gov for proposals submitted in response to postdoctoral fellowship solicitations that do not contain reference letter requirements. The postdoctoral fellowship solicitations will be updated to include information about proposal preparation and submission in Research.gov.

To initiate a postdoctoral fellowship proposal in Research.gov, the proposer must first have the Postdoctoral Scholar/Principal Investigator (PI) role, which is different from the PI role.

Refer to the Postdoctoral Fellowship Proposals topic Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) on the Research.gov About Proposal Preparation and Submission page for instructions to add the Postdoctoral Scholar/PI role. Additional guidance is available in the Add a New Role – Postdoctoral Fellowship Principal Investigator section of the Account Management Guide on the Research.gov About Account Management page.

Postdoctoral fellowship program solicitations will only display in Research.gov and be available for selection for proposers preparing a proposal as a Postdoctoral Scholar/PI.

New Research.gov Proposal Features; Expanded Where to Apply Options: Proposers now have the ability to choose additional Directorate/Division/Program options (i.e., secondary units of consideration) to direct proposals to NSF. Refer to the Managing Where to Apply topic FAQs on the Research.gov About Proposal Preparation and Submission page for additional information.

- Project Data Form: The Project Data Form is now available in Research.gov and must be included in proposals for selected funding opportunities in the Directorate for Education and Human Resources (EHR)/Division of Undergraduate Education (DUE). See the Project Data Form topic FAQs on the Research.gov About Proposal Preparation and Submission page for details.

- Separate Uploads of Multiple Supplementary Documents: Proposers can now upload multiple PDF documents in the Other Supplementary Documents proposal section and will no longer need to combine documents into a single PDF prior to uploading.

- NSF Public Access Repository (NSF-PAR) Enhancements Effective May 2nd: PIs and co-PIs can now remove research datasets from NSF-PAR without assistance from the NSF Help Desk by disassociating the NSF award(s) from the dataset. Disassociating all NSF awards from a dataset removes the dataset from the NSF-PAR publicly facing search.

- Deposit of dataset information in NSF-PAR remains optional, and there are no changes at this time to NSF’s Public Access policy or project reporting requirements. Training resources are available on the Research.gov About Public Access page. Information about the NSF Public Access Initiative including FAQs is available on the NSF Public Access Initiative page. Feedback about the PAR 2.0 pilot may be submitted to publicaccess@nsf.gov. For information about Research.gov proposal functionality planned for release in the coming months, please see the Proposal Submission Capabilities on the Research.gov About Proposal Preparation and Submission page. All enabled proposal and submission types are also available to try out on the Research.gov Proposal Preparation Demo Site (you will be prompted to sign in to Research.gov if you are not already signed in). Demo site FAQs can be found on the Research.gov About Proposal Preparation and Submission page left navigation menu.

- Questions? If you have IT system-related questions regarding the new functionality and enhancements, please contact the NSF Help Desk at 1-800-381-1532 (7:00 AM - 9:00 PM ET; Monday - Friday except federal holidays) or via email to rgov@nsf.gov. Policy-related questions should be directed to policy@nsf.gov.

Additional Information: Please see this important announcement from NSF regarding the required use of Research.gov, and the decommission of FastLane. Policy-related questions should always be directed to your SPA Project Officer. [brought to our attention by Stephanie Scott]; NSF sent the announcement below reminding the research community that FastLane will be decommissioned at the end of this calendar year. NSF currently requires the use of Research.gov for many program solicitations. See Program Descriptions that Require Proposal Preparation and Submission in Research.gov or Grants.gov, a document that identifies program descriptions requiring Research.gov preparation and submission and the associated effective date. This document will be updated on an ongoing basis.; Please see NSF’s full announcement below, which contains training resources to assist you. For questions, please contact your SPA Project Officer.; [brought to our attention by Stephanie Scott] ; Required Use of Research.gov for Preparation and Submission of Proposals in Response to Program Descriptions; System Update; Dear Colleague: In accordance with Important Notice No. 147, many National Science Foundation (NSF) program solicitations now require the use of Research.gov for the preparation and submission of proposals. Please be advised that NSF will now start requiring the use of Research.gov for the preparation and submission of proposals in response to program descriptions. As a reminder, FastLane is targeted to be removed as a submission option from all funding opportunities by December 31, 2022. Grants.gov will remain a submission option for most NSF proposals.; To assist the research community, NSF developed a dynamic listing of program descriptions that require submission in Research.gov. Follow these steps to determine if your proposal for a specific program description must be prepared and submitted in Research.gov: Access the relevant NSF.gov program description page (e.g., Magnetospheric Physics, PD 98-5750); View the advisory in the Program Guidelines section on the right side of the program description page and click on the link in the advisory: Alert: Many NSF programs are only accepting proposals in Research.gov or Grants.gov. FastLane may no longer be a submission option. For more information, please visit Program Descriptions that Require Proposal Preparation and Submission in Research.gov or Grants.gov.; The document will identify program descriptions requiring Research.gov preparation and submission and the associated effective date. This document will be updated on an ongoing basis as FastLane will be removed from all program descriptions as a proposal preparation and submission option by December 31, 2022.; Since many program solicitations also require submission in Research.gov, proposers should pay close attention to the requirements identified in those specific funding opportunities.; Research.gov Proposal Capabilities and Transition from FastLane Proposal Preparation; Nearly all FastLane proposal preparation and submission capabilities are now available in Research.gov. For details about the remaining proposal features that will soon be added to Research.gov, please see the Proposal Submission Capabilities table on the Research.gov About Proposal Preparation and Submission page. To stay informed about Research.gov and FastLane changes, we invite you to join our System Updates listserv. Sign up by sending a blank email to: system_updates-subscribe-request@listserv.nsf.gov.; NSF strongly encourages proposers to prepare and submit all supported proposals in Research.gov now, to facilitate a smooth transition from FastLane proposal preparation to Research.gov over the next several months. In addition, NSF relies on your vital feedback to help ensure the system is working as intended and to identify areas of improvement. Feedback may be submitted at https://www.research.gov/research-web/feedback.; Research.gov Proposal Preparation and Submission Training Resources; Research.gov About Proposal Preparation and Submission page; Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) by topic; Video Tutorials; How-to Guides; Research.gov Proposal Preparation Demo Site (See the demo site FAQs on the Research.gov About Proposal Preparation and Submission page for access information and demo site features.); Research.gov Update and Demonstration presentation from the Fall 2021 NSF Virtual Grants Conference; Questions? Additional Information: See NSF update below regarding system updates that were made yesterday in Research.gov and FastLane to align with the latest Proposal & Award Policies & Procedures Guide (PAPPG) (NSF 22-1); We’ll be reviewing some of these changes during next week’s Research Administration Forum, taking place on Wednesday, October 13th at 11am (click link for more information about the Forum); As always, please feel free to reach out to your SPA Project Officer should you have any questions; [brought to our attention by Stephanie Scott]; Now Available: New Proposal and Submission Types and System Enhancements to Support the Revised PAPPG (NSF 22-1); Dear Colleague: Effective October 4, 2021, the National Science Foundation (NSF) made a number of system updates for proposals submitted in Research.gov, FastLane, and Grants.gov in accordance with the implementation of the Proposal & Award Policies & Procedures Guide (PAPPG) (NSF 22-1). Please see the list of PAPPG (NSF 22-1) significant changes and clarifications for all of the updates. New proposal and submission types were also enabled in the Research.gov Proposal Submission System; New Proposal Types in the PAPPG; The PAPPG (NSF 22-1) incorporates two new "Other Types of Proposals": Planning Proposals; Planning proposals must be prepared and submitted in Research.gov.; Refer to PAPPG Chapter II.E.1. for Planning proposal requirements.; Career-Life Balance (CLB) Supplemental Funding Requests; CLB supplemental funding requests must be prepared and submitted in FastLane.; Refer to PAPPG Chapter II.E.8. for CLB supplemental funding request requirements.; Updates to NSF-approved Biographical Sketch and Current and Pending Support Formats; The NSF-approved biographical sketch and current and pending support formats were updated to incorporate revisions in the PAPPG (NSF 22-1) and must be used for proposals submitted or due on or after October 4, 2021.; The current formats are posted on the NSF biographical sketch and current and pending support websites. Updated system-related Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) are also available: FAQs on using SciENcv and FAQs on using NSF fillable PDF. SciENcv documents created using the previous version (i.e., NSF 20-1) prior to October 4th are automatically converted in SciENcv to the current version after October 4th.; Biographical sketch format updates include increasing the page limit from two to three pages.; Current and pending support format updates include the addition of new sections for information on objectives and overlap with other projects to help NSF and reviewers assess overlap/duplication.; Biographical sketches and current and pending support information also must be uploaded with Change of Principal Investigator (PI) and Add/Change co-PI requests in FastLane.; When notifying NSF that active other support has changed since the award was made, or since the most recent annual report, current and pending support information must be uploaded in annual and final project reports in the Research.gov Project Reporting System.; Research.gov, FastLane, and Grants.gov will generate a compliance error message if a proposer or grantee attempts to upload a prior version of the biographical sketch or current and pending support formats on or after October 4th.; Removal of Blank Pages from the Current and Pending Support Fillable PDF; Research.gov, FastLane, and Grants.gov will remove any pages which do not contain data entered by users (i.e., blank pages) from the NSF-approved current and pending support fillable PDF.; The trimming service is triggered in Research.gov and FastLane during document upload and during proposal submission in Grants.gov. The trimming service only applies to the NSF-approved current and pending support fillable PDF and not to any other uploaded PDFs. Current and pending support PDFs generated in SciENcv do not include blank pages. The current and pending support fillable PDF document is paginated, and the PDF page numbers will not be updated during the trimming process. This means that it is possible for the trimmed PDF to have skipped page numbers corresponding to the blank pages removed from the fillable PDF. Research.gov Proposal Submission System Enhancements: The Grant Opportunities for Academic Liaison with Industry (GOALI) and Planning proposal types and the Letter of Intent submission type are now available for submission in Research.gov. New automated compliance checks and associated error and warning messages for the enabled proposal and submission types were also implemented. Error messages will prohibit proposal submission to NSF, whereas warning messages still permit proposal submission. All supported proposal and submission types as well as associated compliance checks are also enabled in the Research.gov Proposal Preparation Demo Site. New FAQs were added to the Research.gov About Proposal Preparation and Submission page, and the Proposal Submission Capabilities page has been updated to reflect the latest development updates. Research.gov proposal features continue to expand to support the transition of all proposal preparation and submission functionality from FastLane to Research.gov by a target date of December 31, 2022. Many NSF funding opportunities are supported in Research.gov and clearly specify whether submission via Research.gov is available or required. Questions? If you have IT system-related questions, please contact the NSF Help Desk at 1-800-381-1532 (7:00 AM - 9:00 PM ET; Monday - Friday except federal holidays) or to rgov@nsf.gov. Policy-related questions should be directed to policy@nsf.gov.

Additional Information: NIH NOSI supports returning biomedical researchers; NIH Office of Research on Women's Health; NIH NOSI Supports Returning Biomedical Researchers; NIH has announced a new supplements program for researchers returning to biomedical careers after a qualifying absence. Under “Notice of Special Interest (NOSI): Research Supplements to Promote Reentry and Reintegration into Health-Related Research Careers” (NOT-OD-21-134), successful applicants will be able to participate in full- or part-time mentored research experiences through existing NIH research grants. Eligible for these reentry supplements are individuals whose research careers have been interrupted for at least 6 months because of family responsibilities or other qualifying circumstances. The reintegration supplements will enable individuals to find supportive scientific environments after departure from an unsafe or discriminatory environment resulting from unlawful harassment. Most candidates for the reentry supplements will have a doctoral degree or equivalent; however, some awarding NIH Institutes and Centers may enable predoctoral students, including those enrolled in dual-degree programs, to apply. Postdoctoral and predoctoral students are eligible to apply for reintegration supplements to allow them to transition to a safe, supportive research environment and complete their graduate degrees. Click here for more information, including detailed eligibility requirements and staff contacts. The first available due date for submissions is August 26, 2021, and the supplements program is set to expire on October 7, 2023.; Related Announcements: [PA-20-272] - Administrative Supplements to Existing NIH Grants and Cooperative Agreements (Parent Admin Supp Clinical Trial Optional)

Additional Information: Continued Extension of Certain Flexibilities for Prospective Basic Experimental Studies With Human Participants; Notice Number: NOT-OD-22-205; Purpose: This notice replaces NOT-OD-21-088. The purpose of this notice is to further extend interim policy flexibilities regarding registration and results reporting for a subset of NIH-funded research whose primary purpose is basic experimental studies with humans (BESH) submitted in response to BESH Funding Opportunity Announcements (FOAs). These studies, referred to in NOT-OD-18-212 as “prospective basic science studies involving human participants,” meet both the NIH definition of a “clinical trial” and also the definition of basic research; This additional extension will last through September 24, 2024. During this extension period, NIH will continue to work with the BESH community to achieve effective and efficient dissemination of information that is useful to other researchers and members of the public, while also maintaining the NIH commitment to stewardship and increasing transparency.

Notice of Special Interest (NOSI) - Emerging and Existing Issues of Coronavirus Disease 2019 (COVID-19) Research Related to the Health and Well-Being of Women, Children and Individuals with Physical and/or Intellectual Disabilities

Sponsor: Eunice Kennedy Shriver National Institute of Child Health and Human Development; National Institute on Drug Abuse; National Institute of Environmental Health Sciences; National Institute of Neurological Disorders and Stroke; Office of Behavioral and Social Sciences Research; Office of Research on Women’s Health

Deadline(s): 06/05/2022 (First Available Due Date); 06/06/2024 (Expiration Date)

Contact: Scientific/Research Contact(s): Robert Tamburro, MD, MSc; Eunice Kennedy Shriver National Institute of Child Health and Human Development (NICHD); Telephone: 301-480-2619; Email: robert.tamburro@nih.gov

Additional Information: NOSI: Emerging and Existing Issues of Coronavirus Disease 2019 (COVID-19) Research Related to the Health and Well-Being of Women, Children and Individuals with Physical and/or Intellectual Disabilities; FOA Number: NOT-HD-22-002; Key Dates: First Available Due Date: June 5, 2022; Expiration Date: June 6, 2024; Purpose: The purpose of this funding opportunity is to provide an avenue for researchers to pursue funding to conduct research addressing these and other emerging and existing COVID-related issues among pregnant and lactating people, infants, children and adolescents, and individuals with physical and/or intellectual disabilities. The goal of this NOSI is to not replace or compete with the various COVID-related funding opportunities currently available. Instead, the purpose is to complement them by offering a funding opportunity to address key issues in a most timely manner not currently covered by available COVID-related funding announcements among these populations. Research projects addressing issues that are the focus of currently available or future COVID funding opportunity announcements will be encouraged to submit to those announcements. Also, applicants responding to this NOSI are strongly encouraged to describe plans for the rapid sharing of data and results as well as innovative data analytics approaches. The sharing of COVID-related data and resources and effective communication of results are a high priority of the NIH.; view NOT-HD-22-002

Notice of Special Interest (NOSI): Social, Behavioral, and Economic Impact of COVID-19 in Underserved and Vulnerable Populations

Sponsor: NIH
Deadline(s): 10/05/2021 (First Available Due Date); 09/08/2024 (Expiration Date)
Contact: Scientific/Research Contact(s); Adam Haim, Ph.D.; National Institute of Mental Health (NIMH); Email: haima@mail.nih.gov

Additional Information: NIH releases NOSI on COVID-19’s impact on underserved and vulnerable populations; View it as a Web page. NIH NOSI to Support Studies on COVID-19’s Impact on Underserved and Vulnerable Populations; ORWH has announced its participation in Notice of Special Interest (NOSI): Social, Behavioral, and Economic Impact of COVID-19 in Underserved and Vulnerable Populations (NOT-MH-21-330). The COVID-19 pandemic has demonstrated that prevention and mitigation strategies for the pandemic are uneven—for a range of reasons, including a lack of trust in health systems, economic circumstances, and challenges in sustaining long-term adherence, especially for underserved and vulnerable populations. By increasing our understanding of the multifaceted effects of the COVID-19 pandemic and public health interventions that mitigate risk and promote resilience in high-risk populations, we can improve the long-term response to the pandemic and prepare more effectively for future public health emergencies. To strengthen the understanding and response to social, behavioral, and economic effects of the COVID-19 pandemic, NIH is encouraging the submission of applications that will: Address the roles and effects of interventions, particularly those under the umbrella of digital health, as well as community-engaged and multilevel interventions in health care settings to address access, reach, delivery, engagement, effectiveness, scalability, and sustainability of services that are utilized during and following the pandemic; Encourage the leveraging of existing large-scale data sources with broad population coverage to improve prediction of various mitigation efforts (including vaccinations, masking, and physical distancing) on transmission reduction and on social and economic effects and assess the downstream health and health care access effects, with an emphasis on underserved and vulnerable populations; The first submission date is October 5, 2021, and subsequent receipt dates will extend through September 8, 2024.

Link(s): https://grants.nih.gov/grants/guide/rfa-files/RFA-DK-23-014.html
Additional Information: The NIDDK Catalyst Award is designed to complement NIDDK’s traditional, investigator-initiated grant programs by supporting individual scientists who propose pioneering and transformational studies in topic areas of interest to NIDDK’s Division of Diabetes, Endocrinology and Metabolic Diseases, and to NIDDK’s Division of Digestive Diseases and Nutrition. Applications should be focused on major scientific challenges and have the potential to produce an unusually high impact on diseases and conditions that are central to the mission of these two divisions within NIDDK. To be considered responsive to this initiative, the proposed research should reflect new and novel scientific directions that are distinct from concepts and approaches being pursued in the investigator’s research program or elsewhere.

The HHEAR Data Center’s public data repository has recently been updated

Sponsor: HHEAR; Human Health Exposure Analysis Resource; Sponsored by: National Institute of Environmental Health Sciences (NIEHS) | New York State Foundation for Science, Technology and Innovation (NYSTAR)

Deadline(s): NA

Contact: HHEARsupport@mssm.edu

Link(s): https://hheardatacenter.mssm.edu/

Additional Information: HHEAR public data available! The HHEAR Data Center’s public data repository has recently been updated. To benefit the broader research community, the HHEAR Data Center hosts a public data repository that contains both de-identified original study and de-identified harmonized data from all studies accepted into the CHEAR and HHEAR program that have passed the embargo period. The goal of this repository is to promote the secondary analysis of pooled environmental health data by providing data in a manner that is findable, accessible, interoperable and reusable. The repository is searchable by a number of features and users are able to compile and download customized datasets from CHEAR and HHEAR research studies. The repository is updated periodically as studies come off embargo.

To access both types of data, go to HHEAR Data Center

Thank you, The HHEAR Coordinating Center; [update 01/2023] Publicly Available HHEAR Data; The HHEAR Data Center’s public data repository has recently been updated. The repository contains de-identified study-specific epidemiologic and laboratory analysis data from HHEAR projects that have passed the embargo period. The HHEAR data repository also contains harmonized study data that can be combined for multiple HHEAR projects. Users are able to search and download customized datasets from these research studies. To access the data in the repository, go to the HHEAR Data Center Portal, select the login link on the top menu and follow the instructions to register or log in with your HHEAR username and password. Once logged in, from the top menu, select Studies to download study-specific files, or select Harmonized Data to create a custom dataset. The repository is updated periodically as projects pass embargo and complete the harmonization process. If you have any questions about using the HHEAR data repository, contact hhearsupport@mssm.edu.

HHEAR; Human Health Exposure Analysis Resource Webinar Series

Sponsor: HHEAR; Human Health Exposure Analysis Resource
Deadline(s): 01/13/2023 (First Event, others to be announced)
Contact: Contact | Human Health Exposure Analysis Resource (HHEAR) Program (hhearprogram.org) ; https://hhearprogram.org/contact
Link(s): https://hhearprogram.org/hhear-exposomics-webinar-series
Additional Information: HHEAR Exposomics Webinar: Computational Workflows for Untargeted Exposomics; HHEAR is hosting a series of webinars on several topics important to exposomics, a rapidly evolving approach in the contemporary biomedical sciences, which involves characterizing the totality of exposures and their effects on our health since conception. The seventh webinar in this series will take place Friday, January 13, at 2 p.m. EST. [this event will have occurred when the newsletter is distributed; the link provided lists subsequent events from this program] Oliver Fiehn, Ph.D., of University of California, Davis, and Xiaxue Du, Ph.D., of University of North Carolina at Charlotte, will discuss advances in computational resources for untargeted exposomics. Computational workflows are key to understanding untargeted exposomics data. Drs. Fiehn and Du will discuss how computational workflows are utilized for extracting the tens of thousands of features in untargeted exposomics data, identifying and annotating the features, and predicting what compounds could have produced those features that do not have confident matches with existing in-house and publicly available compound databases.

Additional Information: New Funding Opportunity: Evaluation of Antimicrobial Resistance in Wastewater and Sewage Sludge Treatment and its Impact to the Environment; New Funding Opportunity; National Priorities: Evaluation of Antimicrobial Resistance in Wastewater and Sewage Sludge Treatment and its Impact to the Environment; Request for Applications; The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) is seeking applications to address knowledge gaps in the occurrence, fate and transport, and persistence of antimicrobial resistant organisms and genes found in municipal wastewater effluent and biosolids. ; Ensuring safe and sustainable water is one of EPA’s top priorities. Antibiotic resistant organisms, which can make it harder to treat certain infections in animals and people, has become an increasingly prioritized global health problem in recent years. The World Health Organization has identified antimicrobial resistance (AMR) as one of the greatest threats to human health, and natural and engineered water environments have increasingly been shown to play significant roles in AMR evolution and spread. ; Research is needed to fill knowledge gaps to better identify and manage AMR risks. ; The RFA is encouraging applicants to focus on one of the below research areas but will still allow applicants to include aspects of both research areas in their applications: Understanding the selection and removal of antimicrobial resistant genes and bacteria throughout wastewater and biosolids treatment trains. ; Understanding the environmental burden and public health impact of antimicrobial resistant genes and bacteria from different municipal wastewater sources on downstream applications and from biosolid use on the environment. ; Applicants are also asked to consider current AMR standardization efforts and justify methods chosen based on their study objectives so that data and results are transferrable and generalizable. ; To view the full details of the request for applications and information on how to apply, click the Apply Here button below. ; Apply Here: If you are interested in potentially serving on the external scientific Peer Review Panel, rather than applying, please send your contact information and a copy of your resume to Ron Josephson (Josephson.Ron@epa.gov) at your earliest convenience; Opens: May 19, 2023; Closes: August 16, 2023; Informational Webinar: June 1, 2023; 1:30 - 2:30 p.m. ET; Learn more about EPA Research Grants.

Additional Information: New Funding Opportunity—Primary Care: Expanding Access and Advancing Racial Health Equity
New York Health Foundation (NYHealth) (nyhealthfoundation.org); New NYHealth Funding Opportunity Now Open: Primary Care: Expanding Access and Advancing Racial Health Equity; The New York Health Foundation (NYHealth) has released a Request for Proposals (RFP) in our new Primary Care priority area to support projects across New York State that expand access to primary care and advance racial health equity through primary care; High-quality primary care provides ongoing, relationship-based care that meets the health needs and preferences of individuals, families, and communities. Primary care is a rare “win-win” in health care that improves individual and community health, enhances health equity, and saves money. Despite the return on investment, we underinvest in primary care, and too many New Yorkers—especially New Yorkers of color—have difficulty getting care when and where they need it; Through this RFP, awards of up to $250,000 will be granted for New York-targeted projects that have regional or statewide impact, disseminate best practices, test replicable models, and contribute to policy and systems change.; Applicants must first complete a letter of inquiry form (LOI). LOIs are due on June 13, 2023 at 1:00 p.m. Upon review, selected organizations will then be invited to submit full proposals due on August 24, 2023 at 1:00 p.m.

LOIs are reviewed by members of the Concern Foundation Scientific Review Committee. Notification of LOI status and invitation to submit a full proposal will be available in early September 2023. Due to the large number of LOIs submitted, only a small percentage are invited to submit a full proposal. Additional guidelines will be made available to those invited to submit the full proposal. All further notification will originate from the following email address grants@concernfoundation.org. Please add to your contact list to avoid important messages from landing in your Spam folder. Due to the volume of inquiries, please do not call the Concern Foundation for Cancer Research office or respond directly to me. Any and all grant program questions or for help with the submission process, please contact: Megan Mulcahy our Grants Administrator at grants@concernfoundation.org ; Please use this link to the Concern Foundation website for more information about the Concern Foundation Conquer Cancer Now Awards https://www.concernfoundation.org/apply-for-a-grant ; Conquer Cancer Now Award recipients will be selected based on peer review by Concern Foundation for Cancer Research’s Scientific Review Committee. The committee is comprised of a panel of cancer research scientists from institutions in the United States and abroad. Neither I nor any members of the Concern Foundation staff or Executive Board are involved in any aspect of the review process.; Recommendations for funding to the Concern Foundation Executive Board will be based on the following criteria: Focus on the mission of Concern Foundation for Cancer Research to fund the best research in the areas of cancer genetics, cancer biology, and cancer immunology.; Significance and originality of the proposal.; Hypothesis-driven scientific approach based on a strong premise.; Feasibility of the aims of the proposal.; Qualifications of the investigator and his/her team.; Institutional commitment, scientific research environment, and availability of resources to support the proposed project.; Concern Foundation for Cancer Research accepts grant applications from institutions in the United States and abroad. U.S. citizenship is not a requirement.; Eligible applicants are independent investigators who are at the start of their scientific career (i.e., junior faculty) and are at the level of Assistant Professor (or equivalent, with explanation). Due to the highly accomplished nature of the junior faculty who typically apply to Concern Foundation for Cancer Research, successful proposals are usually from investigators who have been in their independent position and directing their own research program for more than one year.; Priority will be given to proposals from investigators who are well-regarded by their institution and have yet to obtain significant outside funding for their work. An applicant who is a PI with an existing R01 or equivalent is not eligible.; Applicants at governmental agencies are not eligible.; Concern Foundation for Cancer Research does not and shall not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion (creed), gender, gender expression, age, national origin (ancestry), disability, marital status, sexual orientation, or military status, in any of its grant reviews and funding processes.; Please feel free to share this e-mail with friends, institutions, foundation and research associates and colleagues.; Megan Mulcahy; Concern Foundation; concernfoundation.org; [brought to our attention by] Dr. Sadiqa Quadri; Research Program Manager; Herbert Irving Comprehensive Cancer Center; Columbia University Irving Medical Center; Columbia | Columbia University Herbert Irving Comprehensive Cancer Center

[No Link Provided]
CDMRP continues to be concerned about the impacts of COVID-19 on Service Members and the public. We are aware of the challenges it poses and are tracking some of the impacts to current awardees and ongoing research. While not every program will have financial resources available to assist, awareness of any significant unresolved issues affecting current research awards is important.; The intent of this notice is to remind recipients of the requirements in 32 CFR Part 1134, Subpart E Other Reporting. This provision specifies the requirement for recipients to disclose significant developments as soon as they become known. These include problems, delays, or adverse conditions that will materially impair your ability to meet the objectives of your awards.; Disclosures of significant developments may be made on your next interim performance report or at any point between scheduled performance reporting dates by contacting the Science Officer or Grant Specialist assigned to your award. This disclosure must include a statement of the action taken, or contemplated, and any assistance needed to resolve the situation

You can also subscribe to be alerted from DoD about new funding opportunities related to your specific area of interest; [brought to our attention by Stephanie Scott] A pre-application is required and must be submitted through the electronic Biomedical Research Application Portal (eBRAP) at https://eBRAP.org prior to the pre-application deadline. All applications must conform to the final Funding Opportunities/Program Announcements and General Application Instructions which can be found on the Grants.gov website https://Grants.gov; A listing of all CDMRP and other USAMRDC extramural funding opportunities can be obtained on the Grants.gov website by performing a basic search using CFDA Number 12.420.; New for FY22: The applicant organization must be registered as an entity in SAM https://www.sam.gov/SAM/ and receive confirmation of an "Active" status before submitting an application through Grants.gov. As published in the Federal Register 10 July 2019 https://www.federalregister.gov/documents/2019/07/10/2019-14665/unique-entity-id-standard-for-awards-management, the Unique Entity Identifier for awards management generated through SAM will replace the Data Universal Numbering System (DUNS) number as of April 2022. CDMRP has transitioned to use of the Unique Entity Identifier (SAM) and will utilize the latest SF 424 which includes the UEI. The DUNS will no longer be accepted.; For email notification when CDMRP funding opportunities are released, subscribe to program-specific news and updates under “Email Subscriptions” on the eBRAP homepage at https://eBRAP.org. For more information about the CDMRP-administered programs, please visit the CDMRP website https://cdmrp.army.mil; For more information on types of funding opportunities offered and application strategies review the CDMRP Webinar Series: https://cdmrp.army.mil/pubs/Webinars/webinar_series.; To be added or removed from this email list please use the "Subscribe/unsubscribe" to program specific news and updates at https://ebrap.org.; Point of Contact: CDMRP Public Affairs; 301-619-9783; usarmy.detrick.medcom-cdmrp.mbxx.cdmrp-public-affairs@health.mil

Additional Information: NOSI: Dissemination and Implementation Research to Advance Mental, Emotional, and Behavioral Health Preventive Interventions in School Settings; FOA Number: NOT-AT-22-004; Key Dates: First Available Due Date: June 5, 2022; Expiration Date: June 5, 2024; Purpose: The purpose of this Notice of Special Interest (NOSI) is to stimulate dissemination and implementation research to support innovative approaches to identifying, understanding, and developing strategies for overcoming barriers to the adoption, adaptation, integration, scale-up and sustainability of evidence-based preventive interventions to support children’s mental, emotional, and behavioral (MEB) health in school settings. This NOSI encourages applications which focus on dissemination and implementation research to deliver interventions in the school setting that will promote healthy MEB development and/or prevent MEB disorders. Applications should include a focus on one of the following: (1) primary/universal prevention MEB programs designed to promote healthy MEB development by decreasing risk factors and increasing protective factors to prevent onset of an MEB disorder; or (2) secondary/selective prevention programs designed to support screening and early identification of MEB disorders to slow progression with early intervention. Applications focused on tertiary/indicated treatment of MEB disorders will be considered non-responsive to this Notice.; View NOT-AT-22-004

Additional Information: NIH issues funding opportunity for studies on mitigating sexual harassment in the biomedical research enterprise; National Institutes of Health; Office of Research on Women’s Health; NIH issues funding opportunity for studies on mitigating sexual harassment in the biomedical research enterprise (govdelivery.com); NIH NOSI to Support Studies on Mitigating Sexual Harassment in the Biomedical Research Enterprise; ORWH has announced its participation in Notice of Special Interest (NOSI): Interventions Designed to Change the Culture to Mitigate or Eliminate Sexual Harassment in the Biomedical Research Enterprise NOT-OD-21-150. The cumulative effect of sexual harassment has a devastating and costly impact on individuals and the Nation. There are emotional, physical, mental, and legal consequences, which may have a direct impact on individual performance and career advancement, as well as social and fiscal effects on institutional settings, students, and co-workers.; The National Academies of Sciences, Engineering, and Medicine report titled Sexual Harassment of Women: Climate, Culture, and Consequences in Academic Sciences, Engineering, and Medicine demonstrates the urgent need to develop new partnerships to address this challenging problem. NIH is encouraging applications to test interventions that would be designed to change the culture and mitigate or eliminate sexual harassment in the biomedical research enterprise.; The first available due date for funding opportunity submissions is October 13, 2021, and subsequent receipt dates will extend through October 14, 2023.

Invasive surgical procedures offer the opportunity for unique intracranial interventions such as the ability to record and stimulate intracranially within precisely localized brain structures in humans. Human studies using invasive technology are often constrained by a limited number of patients and available resources, and frequently the resulting datasets need to be aggregated across sites to achieve sufficient statistical power. To overcome these fundamental barriers and to investigate high-impact questions in human neuroscience, this NOFO seeks applications to assemble diverse, integrated, multi-disciplinary teams that cross boundaries of interdisciplinary collaboration.

Additional Information: Longevity Impetus Grant Announcement; FYI Below. Yousin shared this. Applications open on 9/13: [NTW]. Impetus Grants provides funding for scientists to start working on what they consider the most important problems in aging biology, without delay. www.impetusgrants.com. September 7, 2021; Dear AGE Member, I’d like to bring to your attention a new source of grant funding for bold ideas in aging research: the Longevity Impetus Grants. These grants will support bold ideas with the potential to change how the field thinks and works, including high-risk projects. For more information about the program and to apply, please visit the website. The applications are ~1 page, and decisions are made within three weeks. Impetus Grants range from $10K to $500K, with a maximum of 10% institutional overhead. There’s no restriction on project period, and no strings attached. The ideal application is able to explain how the project would broadly impact the field, by developing/validating new tools and/or changing how we think about aging biology. Such proposals could seek to prove or disprove common assumptions in the field, discover new ways to reverse aging processes, synthesize isolated manifestations of aging into a systemic perspective, and/or develop widely applicable methodologies; Please consider sharing this email within your institution, and with anyone else you think should apply.; I highly encourage you to consider applying for a Longevity Impetus Grant.; Sincerely, [brought to our attention by] Matt Kaeblerlein; CEO and Chair, American Aging Association; Impetus Grants provides funding for scientists to start working on what they consider the most important problems in aging biology, without delay. Such work should not be held up by red tape: we offer grants of up to $500k, with decisions made within 3 weeks. Our review process asks "what's the potential for impact" rather than "could this go wrong".; Our goal is to have a broad impact on the field, by supporting projects that challenge assumptions, develop new tools and methodologies, discover new ways to reverse aging processes, and/or synthesize isolated manifestations of aging into a systemic perspective. To ensure that we learn from every project, we're organizing a special issue of GeroScience to provide an opportunity to publish both positive and negative results from funded studies.; Applications will open on September 13, 2021

Additional Information: Imagine a country in which all individuals, families, and communities have ready access to enough affordable, nutritious food to sustain healthy lives. However, this was still an illusory notion for at least 13.8 million food insecure US households in 2020. Household food insecurity is defined by having difficulty at some time during the year providing enough food for all members because of lack of resources. Moreover, in 2020, the prevalence of food insecurity among African American/Black households was estimated at 21.7%, and among Latino/Hispanic households was estimated at 17.2%, both substantially higher than the overall estimated prevalence of 13.5%.

Additional Information: PAR-22-072: Measures and Methods to Advance Research on Minority Health and Health Disparities-Related Constructs (R01 Clinical Trial Not Allowed) The purpose of this Funding Opportunity Announcement (FOA) is to support research that will advance the measurement and methodology of complex constructs relevant to minority health and health disparities; The NIEHS seeks applications that advance innovative development of new measures and methods, or validation and adaptation of existing measures and approaches, to address the complex interplay of the physical, chemical, cultural, social, and built environmental factors that contribute to or exacerbate environmental health disparities. Applications of interest may include, but are not limited to: The use of mixed methods approaches that integrate qualitative and quantitative data collection methods and measures of factors that contribute to environmental health disparities, including how qualitative methods can inform the development and validation of quantitative surveys and instruments that evaluate these factors.; Application and testing of methods and measures of SDOH, and structural racism and discrimination, to the study of environmental health disparities.; Establishment of novel interdisciplinary collaborations (including, but not limited to, methodologists, behavioral scientists, exposure scientists, epidemiologists, bioinformaticians, biostatisticians, data scientists, social scientists) to incorporate concomitant chemical and built environmental factors with existing or developed measures of structural and individual racism into a multilevel assessment of environmental health disparities.; Development, testing and adaptation of methods and measures that capture the lived experience of intersectionality to identify structural factors contributing to disproportionate exposures to chemical and non-chemical stressors at the community and individual level.; Application of community engaged approaches to identify or develop measures that are based on the interests and primary concerns identified by multiple community stakeholders, such as parents, schools, organizations, and fence-line residents, particularly for communities that are under resourced and populations that have historically been combating environmental injustices and disparate rates of adverse health outcomes.; Examination of the ethical issues related to methods and measurement approaches in the study of environmental health disparities, including issues around data harmonization and the collection of common data elements.; Enhancement of existing place-based indices, environmental exposures models and geocoded data to account for social level factors, to explain environmental health disparities at the regional or community level. Of interest are the extent to which these measures demonstrate how placed-based structural racism and discrimination exacerbate environmental risk factors and/or limit protective factors.; Novel use of SDOH and structural racism and discrimination methods and measures to guide the development of multi-level, evidence-based prevention and intervention strategies to reduce environmental health disparities.; NIEHS Program Contacts: Lindsey Martin lindsey.martin@nih.gov and Melissa Smarr melissa.smarr@nih.gov

Additional Information: NOT-HL-23-001 Notice of Special Interest (NOSI): Epidemiologic studies in Asian Americans, Native Hawaiians, and Pacific Islanders (Parent R01 Clinical Trial Not Allowed) The purpose of this Notice of Special Interest (NOSI) is to stimulate novel epidemiological research to address key knowledge gaps within and between subpopulations of Asian Americans, Native Hawaiians, and Pacific Islanders. These populations are frequently aggregated in research, potentially masking important social and health differences. Given clear heterogeneity in ancestry, culture, immigration patterns among Asian Americans, socioeconomic position, and acculturation into American life, a critical need exists for epidemiological research to enhance our understanding of the interplay of environmental exposures, lifestyle, behavioral, genomics, social, neighborhood, and biological factors that impact the health of Asian American, Native Hawaiian, and Pacific Islander subpopulations.; The National Institute of Environmental Health Sciences encourages submissions of applications that are within the mission of NIEHS, which is to discover how the environment affects people to promote healthier lives. Exposures of interest include, but are not limited to, chemicals that people are exposed to via air, water, food, or direct dermal exposure (e.g., personal care products), including air pollutants, pesticides, metals, industrial chemicals, nanomaterials, environmental tobacco smoke, certain microbial products, and certain physical agents, such as environmental radiation. Applications examining the impacts of climate change on health are encouraged and could include a focus on weather extremes (e.g., prolonged or excessively high heat waves, droughts, severe unseasonal cold spells) and... extreme weather-related disasters (e.g., hurricanes, storm surges, floods, wildfires) attributed to our changing climate; Specific topics of interest include but are not limited to environmental epidemiology studies: Characterizing environmental health disparities among Asian American, Native Hawaiian and Pacific Islander subpopulations; Investigating exposures at the intersection of the physical, chemical, built, and social environments, including social determinants of health, and how these exposures affect health outcomes in Asian American, Native Hawaiian and Pacific Islander subpopulations; Examining the linkages between structural racism and discrimination, environmental exposures, and health outcomes in Asian American, Native Hawaiian and Pacific Islander subpopulations; Examining resilience among Asian American, Native Hawaiian and Pacific Islander subpopulations in the context of climate change and climate change-related disasters; The NIEHS strongly supports research conducted in partnership with communities. Studies that utilize community engaged and/or citizen science approaches done in partnership with Asian American, Native Hawaiian and Pacific Islander communities and/or community-based organizations are strongly encouraged. Applications that utilize report-back methods to increase the environmental health literacy within these subpopulations are also strongly encouraged; NIEHS Program Contact: Lindsey Martin lindsey.martin@nih.gov

Additional Information: NIH Announces Funding Opportunity to Study the Role of Work in Health Disparities in the U.S.; ORWH recently announced its participation in The Role of Work in Health Disparities in the U.S. (R01 Clinical Trials Optional) (PAR-21-275). The funding opportunity will support innovative population-based research designed to identify and characterize pathways and mechanisms through which work or occupation influences health outcomes and health status among populations with health and/or health care disparities; The main objective of this initiative is to determine the extent and mechanisms by which work, as a social determinant of health, both contributes to and helps alleviate disparities related to health and health care; Of particular interest are: Projects designed to examine pathways and mechanisms using conceptual model(s) grounded in minority health and health disparities theories that recognize that health disparities arise by multiple and overlapping contributing factors acting at multiple levels of influence; Intersectional approaches that consider different social identities and the embeddedness of individuals within families, households, and communities; Projects that explore whether work can explain the health or health care disparities seen within diseases or conditions (e.g., COVID-19, opioid use disorder, mental/behavioral health, diabetes, cancer, heart disease, asthma, and maternal and infant health); Projects that explore how work contributes to health care disparities—including, but not limited to, disparities in access to preventive, specialty, and emergency care in health insurance coverage and disparities in quality of health care; Applications for The Role of Work in Health Disparities in the U.S. (R01 Clinical Trials Optional) will open on September 5, 2021.

Additional Information:

Dear Mailman School faculty,

I want to give you an update on Research Support Services—the School’s new program for pre-submission external review and final editing. As Dean Fried wrote in October, the program is geared “to support faculty in preparing grant applications with the highest chance of success.”

I’m happy to report that those using the services this fall have found them valuable. Katherine Keyes in Epidemiology spoke enthusiastically at the recent Assembly: “It was a great experience. I got to focus on the science without having to deal with any of the administrative aspects. I got really good feedback. I will be using these services again.”

In my estimation, all the grants were greatly improved by these services. Of course, the ultimate test is how they are scored and funded. As soon I have that information, I will share it with you.
I encourage everyone to take advantage of Research Support Services to give your grants a competitive advantage. Please keep in mind the following deadlines:

- 5 weeks prior to submission deadline—Inform Research Resources (via Craig Kandell at ckk7@cumc.columbia.edu) if you plan on using Research Support Services with information about the type of grant at least five weeks prior to the grant due date. If you seek external review, please provide the name and contacts of at least three potential reviewers so we can reach out to them in your order of preference.

- 4 weeks prior to submission deadline—Send us your science draft for external review three to four weeks prior to submission. We will forward it to the external reviewer. Generally, they provide feedback within a week.

- 2 weeks prior to submission deadline—For editorial services, send us your manuscript at least 10 days ahead of the deadline. We will make arrangements with the editor. Comments will be returned to Craig and the PI for finalization and submission within a few days.

Please keep in mind that it may take you a day or two to incorporate comments and edits. For best results, get in touch with us prior to these deadlines.

Research Support Services cover first-time submissions, and we are pleased to expand the service to encompass resubmissions of R01, R, K, Center, T32, or other complex NIH proposals by full-time faculty with primary appointments in the School. I am available to provide feedback for grants that utilize this service and also for other grant types that are ineligible for the services.

If you have any questions about your eligibility or the above process, please visit Research Resources online or contact me at prf1@cumc.columbia.edu.

Best wishes,

Pam Factor-Litvak

Sponsor: RWJF; https://www.evidenceforaction.org/
Deadline(s): Open
Contact: Email: evidenceforaction@ucsf.edu; Website: www.evidenceforaction.org
Additional Information: New funding opportunity: Innovative research to advance racial equity; As we enter into a year and a half of the pandemic there’s no doubt that we have had many difficult conversations as a country. One particular topic we should not stop discussing is the harm structural racism has on the health and well-being of society and how we can dismantle it;
RWJF’s Evidence for Action program is currently seeking proposals to evaluate specific policies, programs, and practices that have the potential to contribute to dismantling and counteracting the harms of structural and systemic racism and improving health, well-being, and equity outcomes. Knowing that some approaches to disrupting racism are in early stages of development; other types of research that can advance racial equity will be considered.  ; Learn more about eligibility and selection criteria

The EVPR’s Office is working with schools to determine the theme and institutional partners for our Chan Zuckerberg Biohub LOI. I will appoint and convene a faculty committee to coordinate with relevant deans, Provost Boyce, and colleagues in Development on next steps for the Columbia University Coordination on CZ Biohub Letter of Intent; Please direct any questions to EVPR@columbia.edu with “CZ Biohub” in the subject line.

Sponsor: Chan Zuckerberg Initiative; CU EVPR
Deadline(s): 02/01/2022 (Release Date)
Contact: Please direct any questions to EVPR@columbia.edu with “CZ Biohub” in the subject line
Link(s): https://www.czbiohub.org/cz-biohub-network-applications/

Additional Information: Columbia University Coordination on CZ Biohub Letter of Intent; Dear Faculty: The Chan Zuckerberg Initiative recently announced a competition for a new Chan Zuckerberg Biohub to focus on developing new technologies to measure and observe human biology in ways that help deepen our understanding of human health and disease. The ideal scientific themes should be interdisciplinary in nature, have large engineering challenges to conquer, and should be wildly ambitious. The focus area of this new CZ Biohub should further diversify CZI’s existing research portfolio, which includes: infectious disease and quantitative cell science (San Francisco CZ Biohub); neuroscience and artificial intelligence (Kempner Institute for the Study of Natural and Artificial Intelligence at Harvard University); and the Chan Zuckerberg Institute for Advanced Biomedical Imaging.

The Letter of Intent (LOI) requires a minimum of three geographically proximate institutions collectively to propose a concept for the CZ Biohub. As an organizational structure, the CZ Biohub will be a nonprofit medical research organization that will enter into a collaboration agreement with its institutional partners, enabling the new CZ Biohub to support research at its partner Institutions. Funding is anticipated in the $200–250 million range, over an initial ten-year period, with the possibility for an additional five-year commitment of funds.

Columbia plans to endorse only one institutional partnership application for this opportunity. The EVPR’s Office is working with schools to determine the theme and institutional partners for our Chan Zuckerberg Biohub LOI. I will appoint and convene a faculty committee to coordinate with relevant deans, Provost Boyce, and colleagues in Development on next steps. Please direct any questions to EVPR@columbia.edu with “CZ Biohub” in the subject line.

Sincerely,
Jeanette M. Wing; Executive Vice President for Research; Professor of Computer Science; Columbia University

Dissemination and Implementation Research in Health (R01 Clinical Trial Optional)
Sponsor: National Cancer Institute; National Center for Complementary and Integrative Health; National Human Genome Research Institute; National Institute on Aging; National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism; National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases; National Institute of Arthritis and Musculoskeletal and Skin Diseases; Eunice Kennedy Shriver National Institute of Child Health and Human Development; National Institute on Drug Abuse; National Institute on Deafness and Other Communication Disorders; National Institute of Dental and Craniofacial Research; National Institute of Diabetes and Digestive and Kidney Diseases; National Institute of Environmental Health Sciences; National Institute of Mental Health; National Institute on Minority Health and Health Disparities; National Institute of Neurological Disorders and Stroke;
The purpose of this Funding Opportunity Announcement (FOA) is to support studies that will identify, develop, and/or test strategies for overcoming barriers to the adoption, adaptation, integration, scale-up, and sustainability of evidence-based interventions, practices, programs, tools, treatments, guidelines, and policies. Studies that promote equitable dissemination and implementation of evidence-based interventions among underrepresented communities are encouraged. Conversely, there is a benefit in understanding circumstances that create a need to stop or reduce ("de-implement") the use of practices that are ineffective, unproven, low-value, or harmful. In addition, studies to advance dissemination and implementation research methods and measures are encouraged. Applications that focus on re-implementation of evidence-based health services (e.g. cancer screening) that may have dropped off amidst the ongoing COVID pandemic are encouraged.

Link(s): https://grants.nih.gov/grants/guide/pa-files/PA-22-238.html
Additional Information: Funding Opportunity Purpose: The Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality (AHRQ) announces its interest in supporting conferences through the AHRQ Single-Year and Multiple-Year Conference grant programs (R13). AHRQ seeks to support conferences that help further its mission to produce evidence to make health care safer, higher quality, more accessible, equitable and affordable, and to work with HHS and other partners to make sure the evidence is understood and used. The types of conferences eligible for support include: 1) Research Development; 2) Research Design and Methodology; 3) Dissemination and Implementation; 4) Research Training, Infrastructure and Career Development; AHRQ is especially interested in supporting conferences that demonstrate strategies that include plans for disseminating complementary conference materials and products beyond the participants attending the event. Regionally-based conferences are acceptable with the expectation that plans will be developed for national dissemination. Such strategies might include, but are not limited to, submitting articles for publication, posting information on a website, and seeking formal opportunities to discuss conference information with others.

Additional Information: ViCTER RFA Released! Hello Colleagues, just wanted to share information about the release of NIEHS’s Request for Applications (RFA) for the multi-disciplinary “Virtual Consortium for Translational/Transdisciplinary Environmental Research (ViCTER)” RFA-ES-21-007, which posted yesterday evening. The purpose of the ViCTER program is to foster and promote early-stage transdisciplinary collaborations and/or translational research efforts to address fundamental research among basic (technology and mechanism oriented), clinical (patient-oriented) and population-based researchers in the environmental health field. The newly established collaborative teams will come together in common interest to investigate potential linkages between human health and one or more environmental stressor(s). The ViCTER program is intended to support innovative high-risk, high-reward transdisciplinary/translational research projects that are more difficult to achieve in a typical R01 application. Collaboration among investigators at different institutions through a virtual consortium arrangement is encouraged. The next due date is February 1, 2022. There will be a free informational webinar on November 18th from 2-3pm ET. Please visit the ViCTER webpage for a link to register to the webinar and for any updates related to this announcement: https://www.niehs.nih.gov/research/supported/translational/victer/index.cfm. I invite you to share this announcement with teams of researchers who might be interested in this funding mechanism. If you have questions, please don’t hesitate to reach out to me. Thank you, Heather Henry; [brought to our attention by] Heather F. Additional Information: SAVE THE DATE 06/14/2023 Technical Assistance Webinar for New U24 funding Opportunity on Sickle Cell Disease (SCD) Pain.; The National Center for Complementary and Integrative Health (NCCIH/NIH) released a new funding opportunity: Research Network to Promote Multidisciplinary Mechanistic and Translational Studies of Sickle Cell Disease Pain (U24, Clinical Trial Optional). The purpose of this funding opportunity is to support a research network that promotes multidisciplinary mechanistic and translational studies of Sickle Cell Disease (SCD) pain. This network is expected to develop compelling research frameworks and model systems that will support interdisciplinary collaborations; initiate pilot projects to test novel mechanistic hypotheses in the high-priority research areas listed below and develop novel technologies and methodologies to study pain in the organ(s) typically impacted by SCD; To accomplish these objectives, applicants can propose activities such as meetings, workshops, conferences, research collaborations, exchange of ideas through visiting scientist arrangements, or training opportunities. These activities will help identify unique research gaps and opportunities that can be addressed through the network in the form of pilot projects which will in turn generate the preliminary data needed for SCD pain investigators to successfully compete for more substantial NIH grants, including The Helping to End Addiction Long-term® (HEAL) Initiative grant awards. In addition, the network will sustain its scientific impact through a variety of dissemination and outreach strategies, including publication of research frameworks, reviews, and other best practices to foster the growth and development of research in the several priority areas; The application deadline is October 01, 2023.; REGISTER NOW: Technical Assistance Webinar Scheduled: June 14, 2023; 2-3:00 pm ET; We hope you find this information of interest. Please feel free to forward to colleagues who also may be interested in applying for this funding opportunity.; Best wishes, Inna Belfer, MD, Ph.D.; Program Director, Basic and Mechanistic Research Branch; National Center for Complementary and Integrative Health, NIH; Email: inna.belfer@nih.gov

Notice of Requirement for Electronic Submission of all Administrative Supplements

Sponsor: National Institutes of Health

Deadline(s): [1] Effective immediately, NIH will begin accepting administrative supplement applications for multi-project awards electronically. Since the administrative supplement applies to the parent award as a whole, the single-project application form package used for research grants and cooperative agreements will be used for these submissions (e.g., Competition ID= “FORMS-F-ADMINSUPP-RESEARCH.”); [2] Effective July 25, 2020, the streamlined submission method through the eRA Commons will be discontinued and replaced with the option to initiate the administrative supplement application within eRA Commons and leverage technology available in NIH ASSIST, Grants.gov Workspace, or institutional system-to-system (S2S) solutions.

Contact: Please direct all inquiries to: NIH Office of Policy for Extramural Research Administration (OPERA) Systems Policy Branch; Email: operasystemspolicy@nih.gov

Additional Information: Related Announcements: PA-18-591 Administrative Supplements to Existing NIH Grants and Cooperative Agreements (Parent Admin Supp Clinical Trial Optional); PA-18-592 Research Supplements to Promote Re-Entry into Biomedical and Behavioral Research Careers (Admin Supp - Clinical Trial Not Allowed); This Notice alerts the extramural community of three updates to our administrative supplement submission policies.

NIH single IRB (sIRB) policy

Sponsor: NIH
Deadline(s): (for NIH application submissions on or after) 01/25/2018
Contact: If you are preparing an NIH application due on or soon after January 25th, 2018, you should contact the Human Research Protection Office (HRPO) immediately at irboffice@columbia.edu if your application proposes to: () Conduct non-exempt human subjects research; AND; () The same research protocol will be conducted at multiple domestic sites

Additional Information: The NIH single IRB (sIRB) policy applies to the domestic sites of new and competing renewal applications/proposals with due dates of January 25, 2018 and beyond for NIH-funded multi-site studies where each site will conduct the same protocol involving non-exempt human subjects research, whether supported through grants, cooperative agreements, contracts, or the NIH Intramural Research Program.

If you are preparing an NIH application due on or soon after January 25th, 2018, you should contact the Human Research Protection Office (HRPO) immediately at irboffice@columbia.edu if your application proposes to: () Conduct non-exempt human subjects research; AND; () The same research protocol will be conducted at multiple domestic sites. If Columbia University is being proposed as one of the participating sites in an application to be submitted this month or soon after by another applicant organization, you must also contact the HRPO immediately. Moving forward, it is recommended that you contact the HRPO as soon as a decision is made to participate in a multi-site study to which the NIH sIRB Policy applies. An official process that details the requirements for addressing the NIH sIRB Policy is being finalized, to be released shortly. In the meantime, PIs and/or departments can reach out to irboffice@columbia.edu to inform the HRPO about these applications. Upon receipt of your email, HRPO will send you an online form to be completed, and you will be provided with next steps. In addition, we are offering several options to learn more about the sIRB process. Note: Protocols that address the same research questions, involve the same methodologies, and evaluate the same outcomes are considered to be the “same research protocol.” Additionally, sites that are accruing research participants for studies that are identical except for variations due to local context consideration would be considered to be conducting the “same research protocol.” If you have any questions, please contact irboffice@columbia.edu. Our website contains resources to help you while you get accustomed to all of the policy changes impacting proposal preparation. We have an Excel checklist to help you complete the new PHS NIH Human Subjects and Clinical Trials Information Form. We also have a one-page reference guide (thank you Katherine Rochmat of School of Social Work for the initial template)!

Additional Information: Contacting Staff at the NIH Institutes and Centers; In today’s NIH Extramural News blog, the NIH staff posted a handy chart of the major roles of NIH staff: Program Officials, Scientific Review Officers, Grants Management Officials, and staff of the Division of Receipt and Referral in NIH’s Center of Scientific Review. It explains each role’s responsibility, when it is applicable to NIH-funded multi-site domestic studies involving non-exempt human subjects research, whether supported through grants, cooperative agreements, contracts, or the NIH Intramural Research Program.
appropriate to contact them, and where to find their contact information.; See Who At NIH Can Answer my Question About....?; Remember that your Sponsored Projects Administration (SPA) Project Officer must communicate with NIH staff directly when submitting proposals, negotiating awards, submitting Just-in-Time information, submitting formal requests for prior approval, submitting progress reports, clarifying NIH policies, and discussing financial or administrative issues. However, there may be times when contacting NIH directly is appropriate, for example, to identify the right type of grant program and/or funding opportunity for you and your research, or to verify that your idea fits within the mission and priorities of an NIH Institute or Center. When in doubt, reach out to your SPA Project Officer.; [brought to our attention by] Stephanie F.
